

SECTION 1 — IMPORT-READY SOURCE FILE

AP World History: Modern MCQ Practice Exam 2

PART A — QUESTIONS

APWH-MCQ2-001

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized temple inscription, Angkor, c. 1200: “The ruler has restored the great reservoir and assigned officials to measure water for the fields. Rice from royal lands shall support the temple, the scribes, and the workers who maintain the embankments.” What was the most likely purpose of this inscription?

- A) To encourage merchants to abandon inland trade routes
- B) To announce the end of religious authority in Southeast Asia
- C) To present the ruler as a legitimate provider of order, fertility, and religious merit
- D) To promote democratic participation in village government

- A) To encourage merchants to abandon inland trade routes
- B) To announce the end of religious authority in Southeast Asia
- C) To present the ruler as a legitimate provider of order, fertility, and religious merit
- D) To promote democratic participation in village government

APWH-MCQ2-002

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Originalized temple inscription, Angkor, c. 1200: “The ruler has restored the great reservoir and assigned officials to measure water for the fields. Rice from royal lands shall support the temple, the scribes, and the workers who maintain the embankments.” Which environmental challenge is most directly addressed in the inscription?

- A) Managing water for wet-rice agriculture in a monsoon climate
- B) Adapting to Arctic sea-ice conditions
- C) Preventing overgrazing by nomadic herders
- D) Reclaiming desert land for date-palm farming

- A) Managing water for wet-rice agriculture in a monsoon climate
- B) Adapting to Arctic sea-ice conditions
- C) Preventing overgrazing by nomadic herders
- D) Reclaiming desert land for date-palm farming

APWH-MCQ2-003

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized temple inscription, Angkor, c. 1200: “The ruler has restored the great reservoir and assigned officials to measure water for the fields. Rice from royal lands shall support the temple, the scribes, and the workers who maintain the embankments.” Which phrase best supports the claim that religion and state power were connected?

- A) “Assigned officials”
- B) “Measure water”
- C) “For the fields”
- D) “Rice from royal lands shall support the temple”

A) “Assigned officials”

B) “Measure water”

C) “For the fields”

D) “Rice from royal lands shall support the temple”

APWH-MCQ2-004

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Originalized temple inscription, Angkor, c. 1200: “The ruler has restored the great reservoir and assigned officials to measure water for the fields. Rice from royal lands shall support the temple, the scribes, and the workers who maintain the embankments.” Which material feature would best illustrate the type of state power described?

- A) A steam-powered textile mill
- B) A large temple complex connected to reservoirs and canals
- C) A printed nationalist newspaper
- D) A container port with automated cranes

A) A steam-powered textile mill

B) A large temple complex connected to reservoirs and canals

C) A printed nationalist newspaper

D) A container port with automated cranes

APWH-MCQ2-005

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Developments and Processes

Prompt:

Originalized travel account, Central Asia, c. 1250: “With a tablet of authority, a messenger may obtain horses at relay stations and pass safely across the khan’s roads. Merchants say that guards punish bandits, and caravans now carry silk, medicines, and metal goods across lands that were once dangerous.” Which development is best reflected in the account?

- A) Mongol rule facilitated commerce across parts of Eurasia.
- B) Maritime trade replaced all overland exchange.
- C) Central Asian cities were cut off from long-distance trade.
- D) The Silk Roads declined because rulers refused to protect merchants.

- A) Mongol rule facilitated commerce across parts of Eurasia.
- B) Maritime trade replaced all overland exchange.
- C) Central Asian cities were cut off from long-distance trade.
- D) The Silk Roads declined because rulers refused to protect merchants.

APWH-MCQ2-006

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized travel account, Central Asia, c. 1250: “With a tablet of authority, a messenger may obtain horses at relay stations and pass safely across the khan’s roads. Merchants say that guards punish bandits, and caravans now carry silk, medicines, and metal goods across lands that were once dangerous.” Which audience would most likely have found this account useful?

- A) Monks seeking to end all contact with merchants
- B) Peasants attempting to avoid taxation by local landlords
- C) Merchants or envoys planning travel through Mongol-controlled territories
- D) Factory owners looking for wage laborers

- A) Monks seeking to end all contact with merchants
- B) Peasants attempting to avoid taxation by local landlords
- C) Merchants or envoys planning travel through Mongol-controlled territories
- D) Factory owners looking for wage laborers

APWH-MCQ2-007

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized travel account, Central Asia, c. 1250: “With a tablet of authority, a messenger may obtain horses at relay stations and pass safely across the khan’s roads. Merchants say that guards punish bandits, and caravans now carry silk, medicines, and metal goods across lands that were once dangerous.” Which phrase most directly supports the claim that imperial infrastructure encouraged exchange?

- A) “Silk, medicines, and metal goods”

- B) “Relay stations”
- C) “Once dangerous”
- D) “Across lands”

- A) “Silk, medicines, and metal goods”
- B) “Relay stations”
- C) “Once dangerous”
- D) “Across lands”

APWH-MCQ2-008

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized travel account, Central Asia, c. 1250: “With a tablet of authority, a messenger may obtain horses at relay stations and pass safely across the khan’s roads. Merchants say that guards punish bandits, and caravans now carry silk, medicines, and metal goods across lands that were once dangerous.” Which unintended consequence was most associated with the increased movement described?

- A) The immediate end of pastoral nomadism
- B) The disappearance of caravan cities
- C) The collapse of all disease transmission across Eurasia
- D) The spread of epidemic diseases along exchange networks

- A) The immediate end of pastoral nomadism
- B) The disappearance of caravan cities
- C) The collapse of all disease transmission across Eurasia
- D) The spread of epidemic diseases along exchange networks

APWH-MCQ2-009

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described court painting, Mughal Empire, early seventeenth century: “The emperor sits beneath a jeweled canopy. Around him stand nobles ranked by closeness to the throne, including Rajput commanders, Persianate scribes, and military officers. A clerk records gifts and appointments.” Which interpretation is best supported by the visual description?

- A) The Mughal state rejected court hierarchy.
- B) The Mughal emperor used ceremonial rank and diverse elites to organize imperial authority.
- C) Mughal rule depended entirely on elected village assemblies.
- D) The Mughal court excluded non-Muslim elites from all imperial service.

- A) The Mughal state rejected court hierarchy.
- B) The Mughal emperor used ceremonial rank and diverse elites to organize imperial authority.

- C) Mughal rule depended entirely on elected village assemblies.
- D) The Mughal court excluded non-Muslim elites from all imperial service.

APWH-MCQ2-010

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Developments and Processes

Prompt:

Described court painting, Mughal Empire, early seventeenth century: “The emperor sits beneath a jeweled canopy. Around him stand nobles ranked by closeness to the throne, including Rajput commanders, Persianate scribes, and military officers. A clerk records gifts and appointments.” The inclusion of Rajput commanders most directly illustrates which feature of Mughal rule?

- A) The complete separation of military service from social status
- B) The replacement of imperial elites by European merchants
- C) The abolition of aristocratic ranking
- D) The incorporation of local and regional elites into imperial administration

- A) The complete separation of military service from social status
- B) The replacement of imperial elites by European merchants
- C) The abolition of aristocratic ranking
- D) The incorporation of local and regional elites into imperial administration

APWH-MCQ2-011

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Described court painting, Mughal Empire, early seventeenth century: “The emperor sits beneath a jeweled canopy. Around him stand nobles ranked by closeness to the throne, including Rajput commanders, Persianate scribes, and military officers. A clerk records gifts and appointments.”

Which broader cultural context best helps explain the court scene?

- A) Mughal rulers blended Persianate court culture with South Asian political traditions.
- B) Mughal rulers rejected all written record keeping.
- C) South Asia had no contact with Islamic cultural traditions before 1750.
- D) Mughal legitimacy depended only on maritime trade.

- A) Mughal rulers blended Persianate court culture with South Asian political traditions.
- B) Mughal rulers rejected all written record keeping.
- C) South Asia had no contact with Islamic cultural traditions before 1750.
- D) Mughal legitimacy depended only on maritime trade.

APWH-MCQ2-012

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Described court painting, Mughal Empire, early seventeenth century: “The emperor sits beneath a jeweled canopy. Around him stand nobles ranked by closeness to the throne, including Rajput commanders, Persianate scribes, and military officers. A clerk records gifts and appointments.”

Which evidence would best support an argument that Mughal authority depended on bureaucratic management as well as military power?

- A) The jeweled canopy over the emperor
- B) The nobles standing near the throne
- C) The clerk recording gifts and appointments
- D) The presence of military officers

- A) The jeweled canopy over the emperor
- B) The nobles standing near the throne
- C) The clerk recording gifts and appointments
- D) The presence of military officers

APWH-MCQ2-013

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Tokugawa edict, Japan, 1630s: “No missionary shall enter the realm. Ships from abroad may trade only under inspection at the appointed port. Local lords must report hidden converts and unauthorized voyages, for disorder comes when foreign teachings disturb loyalty.”

What was the most likely purpose of this edict?

- A) To encourage unrestricted European settlement throughout Japan
- B) To regulate foreign contact and limit the political influence of Christianity
- C) To abolish all domestic authority of Japanese lords
- D) To make Japan a colony of the Dutch East India Company

- A) To encourage unrestricted European settlement throughout Japan
- B) To regulate foreign contact and limit the political influence of Christianity
- C) To abolish all domestic authority of Japanese lords
- D) To make Japan a colony of the Dutch East India Company

APWH-MCQ2-014

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Tokugawa edict, Japan, 1630s: “No missionary shall enter the realm. Ships from abroad may trade only under inspection at the appointed port. Local lords must report hidden converts and unauthorized voyages, for disorder comes when foreign teachings disturb loyalty.” Which phrase best supports the claim that religious concerns shaped Japanese policy?

- A) “Ships from abroad”
- B) “Foreign teachings disturb loyalty”
- C) “The appointed port”
- D) “Local lords”

- A) “Ships from abroad”
- B) “Foreign teachings disturb loyalty”
- C) “The appointed port”
- D) “Local lords”

APWH-MCQ2-015

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Tokugawa edict, Japan, 1630s: “No missionary shall enter the realm. Ships from abroad may trade only under inspection at the appointed port. Local lords must report hidden converts and unauthorized voyages, for disorder comes when foreign teachings disturb loyalty.” Which broader context best explains why the Tokugawa state issued such regulations?

- A) The collapse of all maritime trade in East Asia
- B) The rise of transoceanic European missionary and commercial activity in Asia
- C) The spread of industrial railroads across Japan
- D) The end of Chinese influence in East Asian commerce before 1200

- A) The collapse of all maritime trade in East Asia
- B) The rise of transoceanic European missionary and commercial activity in Asia
- C) The spread of industrial railroads across Japan
- D) The end of Chinese influence in East Asian commerce before 1200

APWH-MCQ2-016

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized Tokugawa edict, Japan, 1630s: “No missionary shall enter the realm. Ships from abroad may trade only under inspection at the appointed port. Local lords must report hidden converts and unauthorized voyages, for disorder comes when foreign teachings disturb loyalty.” The edict is best understood as an example of which broader process?

- A) A state response to new global maritime connections
- B) The formation of a democratic Atlantic republic
- C) A nomadic conquest of settled agricultural land
- D) The creation of a twentieth-century military alliance

- A) A state response to new global maritime connections
- B) The formation of a democratic Atlantic republic
- C) A nomadic conquest of settled agricultural land
- D) The creation of a twentieth-century military alliance

APWH-MCQ2-017

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized letter by a South American creole revolutionary, c. 1815: “We were taught to obey distant ministers who know neither our roads nor our towns. If sovereignty belongs to the people, then Americans cannot remain children under a king across the sea.” Which development most directly shaped the ideas in the letter?

- A) Enlightenment and Atlantic revolutionary ideas about popular sovereignty
- B) The spread of fascism in interwar Europe
- C) The creation of the Mongol postal system
- D) The rise of container shipping

- A) Enlightenment and Atlantic revolutionary ideas about popular sovereignty
- B) The spread of fascism in interwar Europe
- C) The creation of the Mongol postal system
- D) The rise of container shipping

APWH-MCQ2-018

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized letter by a South American creole revolutionary, c. 1815: “We were taught to obey distant ministers who know neither our roads nor our towns. If sovereignty belongs to the people, then Americans cannot remain children under a king across the sea.” Which phrase best supports the author’s criticism of colonial rule?

- A) “Sovereignty belongs”
- B) “The people”
- C) “Americans”
- D) “Distant ministers who know neither our roads nor our towns”

- A) “Sovereignty belongs”
- B) “The people”
- C) “Americans”
- D) “Distant ministers who know neither our roads nor our towns”

APWH-MCQ2-019

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized letter by a South American creole revolutionary, c. 1815: “We were taught to obey distant ministers who know neither our roads nor our towns. If sovereignty belongs to the people, then Americans cannot remain children under a king across the sea.” The letter most directly reflects which broader ideological shift?

- A) The rejection of nationalism in favor of dynastic empire
- B) The spread of political language that challenged hereditary monarchy and imperial rule
- C) The return of feudal obligations as the basis of citizenship
- D) The defense of absolute monarchy as a universal right

- A) The rejection of nationalism in favor of dynastic empire
- B) The spread of political language that challenged hereditary monarchy and imperial rule
- C) The return of feudal obligations as the basis of citizenship
- D) The defense of absolute monarchy as a universal right

APWH-MCQ2-020

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized letter by a South American creole revolutionary, c. 1815: “We were taught to obey distant ministers who know neither our roads nor our towns. If sovereignty belongs to the people, then Americans cannot remain children under a king across the sea.” Which statement best evaluates the author’s argument?

- A) The author rejects independence because colonial officials understand local conditions.
- B) The author defends empire by claiming monarchy protects American liberties.
- C) The author uses popular sovereignty to argue against rule by distant imperial officials.
- D) The author argues that social hierarchy should be abolished immediately in all colonies.

- A) The author rejects independence because colonial officials understand local conditions.
- B) The author defends empire by claiming monarchy protects American liberties.
- C) The author uses popular sovereignty to argue against rule by distant imperial officials.
- D) The author argues that social hierarchy should be abolished immediately in all colonies.

APWH-MCQ2-021

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Egyptian cotton exports and foreign debt, approximate trends

Period | Cotton exports | Foreign debt

1840s | Moderate | Low

1860s | High during global cotton shortage | Rising

1880s | High export dependence | Heavy foreign control over finances

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Egypt's cotton economy became connected to global industrial demand and foreign financial influence.
- B) Egypt avoided all involvement in nineteenth-century global capitalism.
- C) Cotton exports declined as industrialization spread.
- D) Foreign debt disappeared as export dependence increased.

A) Egypt's cotton economy became connected to global industrial demand and foreign financial influence.

B) Egypt avoided all involvement in nineteenth-century global capitalism.

C) Cotton exports declined as industrialization spread.

D) Foreign debt disappeared as export dependence increased.

APWH-MCQ2-022

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Table: Egyptian cotton exports and foreign debt, approximate trends

Period | Cotton exports | Foreign debt

1840s | Moderate | Low

1860s | High during global cotton shortage | Rising

1880s | High export dependence | Heavy foreign control over finances

Which evidence most directly supports the claim that economic dependence could weaken political autonomy?

- A) “Moderate”
- B) “Low”
- C) “High during global cotton shortage”
- D) “Heavy foreign control over finances”

A) “Moderate”

B) “Low”

C) “High during global cotton shortage”

D) “Heavy foreign control over finances”

APWH-MCQ2-023

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Table: Egyptian cotton exports and foreign debt, approximate trends

Period | Cotton exports | Foreign debt

1840s | Moderate | Low

1860s | High during global cotton shortage | Rising

1880s | High export dependence | Heavy foreign control over finances

Which broader environmental and economic context best explains the expansion of cotton cultivation?

- A) The end of all irrigated agriculture in the Nile valley
- B) The decline of textile manufacturing in industrial economies
- C) The replacement of cash crops by subsistence farming
- D) The use of agricultural land and irrigation systems to supply industrial textile markets

A) The end of all irrigated agriculture in the Nile valley

B) The decline of textile manufacturing in industrial economies

C) The replacement of cash crops by subsistence farming

D) The use of agricultural land and irrigation systems to supply industrial textile markets

APWH-MCQ2-024

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Table: Egyptian cotton exports and foreign debt, approximate trends

Period | Cotton exports | Foreign debt

1840s | Moderate | Low

1860s | High during global cotton shortage | Rising

1880s | High export dependence | Heavy foreign control over finances

Which evidence would best support an argument that transportation technology intensified Egypt's integration into global markets?

- A) A record showing lower demand for cotton cloth
- B) Steamship and canal traffic records showing faster movement of cotton to European mills
- C) A decree banning all exports from Egyptian ports
- D) A religious text criticizing foreign merchants

A) A record showing lower demand for cotton cloth

B) Steamship and canal traffic records showing faster movement of cotton to European mills

C) A decree banning all exports from Egyptian ports

D) A religious text criticizing foreign merchants

APWH-MCQ2-025

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, early 1930s: “A frightened voter stands between two doors.

One door is labeled ‘parliamentary debate’ and appears cracked and slow to open. The other door is labeled ‘order now’ and is guarded by a uniformed leader holding a baton. Behind the voter, a breadline stretches down the street.” Which interpretation is best supported by the cartoon?

- A) Economic crisis made authoritarian promises of order more appealing to some voters.
- B) Parliamentary systems became more stable during the Great Depression.
- C) Fascist movements rejected all forms of mass politics.
- D) Economic hardship had no connection to political radicalization.

- A) Economic crisis made authoritarian promises of order more appealing to some voters.
- B) Parliamentary systems became more stable during the Great Depression.
- C) Fascist movements rejected all forms of mass politics.
- D) Economic hardship had no connection to political radicalization.

APWH-MCQ2-026

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, early 1930s: “A frightened voter stands between two doors. One door is labeled ‘parliamentary debate’ and appears cracked and slow to open. The other door is labeled ‘order now’ and is guarded by a uniformed leader holding a baton. Behind the voter, a breadline stretches down the street.” Which broader context best explains the cartoon?

- A) The prosperity created by postwar decolonization
- B) The Great Depression and widespread doubts about liberal democratic governments
- C) The immediate success of the League of Nations in preventing economic collapse
- D) The decline of nationalism after World War I

- A) The prosperity created by postwar decolonization
- B) The Great Depression and widespread doubts about liberal democratic governments
- C) The immediate success of the League of Nations in preventing economic collapse
- D) The decline of nationalism after World War I

APWH-MCQ2-027

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, early 1930s: “A frightened voter stands between two doors. One door is labeled ‘parliamentary debate’ and appears cracked and slow to open. The other door is labeled ‘order now’ and is guarded by a uniformed leader holding a baton. Behind the voter, a breadline stretches down the street.” Which detail most directly suggests criticism of authoritarian politics?

- A) The uniformed leader holds a baton while promising “order now.”
- B) The breadline stretches down the street.
- C) The voter appears frightened.
- D) The parliamentary door is cracked.

- A) The uniformed leader holds a baton while promising “order now.”
- B) The breadline stretches down the street.
- C) The voter appears frightened.
- D) The parliamentary door is cracked.

APWH-MCQ2-028

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, early 1930s: “A frightened voter stands between two doors. One door is labeled ‘parliamentary debate’ and appears cracked and slow to open. The other door is labeled ‘order now’ and is guarded by a uniformed leader holding a baton. Behind the voter, a breadline stretches down the street.” Which later development was most directly connected to the political trend criticized in the cartoon?

- A) The spread of nonviolent decolonization movements only
- B) The end of militarism in Europe
- C) The expansion of aggressive nationalist states and the outbreak of World War II
- D) The disappearance of state propaganda

- A) The spread of nonviolent decolonization movements only
- B) The end of militarism in Europe
- C) The expansion of aggressive nationalist states and the outbreak of World War II
- D) The disappearance of state propaganda

APWH-MCQ2-029

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized policy speech, Tanzania, late 1960s: “Independence must reach the village. We shall build schools, clinics, and cooperative farms so that development is not owned by foreign firms or a few city men. Our socialism is to make citizens, not subjects.” What was the most likely purpose of the speech?

- A) To promote a postcolonial development program based on rural cooperation and state planning
- B) To restore direct European colonial rule
- C) To reject all government involvement in economic life
- D) To demand annexation by a Cold War superpower

- A) To promote a postcolonial development program based on rural cooperation and state planning
- B) To restore direct European colonial rule
- C) To reject all government involvement in economic life
- D) To demand annexation by a Cold War superpower

APWH-MCQ2-030

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized policy speech, Tanzania, late 1960s: “Independence must reach the village. We shall build schools, clinics, and cooperative farms so that development is not owned by foreign firms or a few city men. Our socialism is to make citizens, not subjects.” Which phrase best supports the claim that the speaker linked independence to social transformation?

- A) “Foreign firms”
- B) “A few city men”
- C) “Build schools, clinics, and cooperative farms”
- D) “Late 1960s”

- A) “Foreign firms”
- B) “A few city men”
- C) “Build schools, clinics, and cooperative farms”
- D) “Late 1960s”

APWH-MCQ2-031

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Developments and Processes

Prompt:

Originalized policy speech, Tanzania, late 1960s: “Independence must reach the village. We shall build schools, clinics, and cooperative farms so that development is not owned by foreign firms or a few city men. Our socialism is to make citizens, not subjects.” The speech reflects which broader postcolonial challenge?

- A) The return of plantation slavery in Africa
- B) The disappearance of rural poverty after independence
- C) The complete rejection of education as a development goal
- D) The effort to create economic development while reducing foreign dependency

- A) The return of plantation slavery in Africa
- B) The disappearance of rural poverty after independence
- C) The complete rejection of education as a development goal
- D) The effort to create economic development while reducing foreign dependency

APWH-MCQ2-032

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized policy speech, Tanzania, late 1960s: “Independence must reach the village. We shall build schools, clinics, and cooperative farms so that development is not owned by foreign firms or a few city men. Our socialism is to make citizens, not subjects.” Which statement best evaluates the speaker’s argument?

- A) The speaker argues that independence should remain symbolic rather than social.
- B) The speaker defines true independence as political freedom combined with social services, rural development, and economic control.
- C) The speaker claims that foreign corporations should direct village life.
- D) The speaker rejects nationalism in favor of imperial citizenship.

- A) The speaker argues that independence should remain symbolic rather than social.
- B) The speaker defines true independence as political freedom combined with social services, rural development, and economic control.
- C) The speaker claims that foreign corporations should direct village life.
- D) The speaker rejects nationalism in favor of imperial citizenship.

APWH-MCQ2-033

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Mobile phone subscriptions per 100 people, approximate regional averages

Region | 2000 | 2020

Sub-Saharan Africa | 2 | 82

South Asia | 1 | 86

Europe | 55 | 121

Latin America | 12 | 104

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Mobile communication expanded globally, but regions began from unequal levels of access.
- B) Mobile technology disappeared in industrialized regions after 2000.
- C) All regions had identical access to mobile phones in 2000.
- D) Globalization eliminated every regional difference by 2020.

- A) Mobile communication expanded globally, but regions began from unequal levels of access.
- B) Mobile technology disappeared in industrialized regions after 2000.
- C) All regions had identical access to mobile phones in 2000.
- D) Globalization eliminated every regional difference by 2020.

APWH-MCQ2-034

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Developments and Processes

Prompt:

Table: Mobile phone subscriptions per 100 people, approximate regional averages

Region | 2000 | 2020

Sub-Saharan Africa | 2 | 82

South Asia | 1 | 86

Europe | 55 | 121

Latin America | 12 | 104

The trend shown in the table most directly contributed to which development?

- A) The end of international finance
- B) The decline of all long-distance communication
- C) The disappearance of digital markets
- D) The expansion of mobile banking, online commerce, and real-time communication

A) The end of international finance

B) The decline of all long-distance communication

C) The disappearance of digital markets

D) The expansion of mobile banking, online commerce, and real-time communication

APWH-MCQ2-035

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Table: Mobile phone subscriptions per 100 people, approximate regional averages

Region | 2000 | 2020

Sub-Saharan Africa | 2 | 82

South Asia | 1 | 86

Europe | 55 | 121

Latin America | 12 | 104

Which evidence best supports the claim that access widened dramatically outside Europe?

- A) Sub-Saharan Africa increased from 2 to 82, and South Asia increased from 1 to 86.
- B) Europe had 55 subscriptions per 100 people in 2000.
- C) Latin America had 12 subscriptions per 100 people in 2000.
- D) Europe reached 121 subscriptions per 100 people by 2020.

A) Sub-Saharan Africa increased from 2 to 82, and South Asia increased from 1 to 86.

B) Europe had 55 subscriptions per 100 people in 2000.

C) Latin America had 12 subscriptions per 100 people in 2000.

D) Europe reached 121 subscriptions per 100 people by 2020.

APWH-MCQ2-036

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Table: Mobile phone subscriptions per 100 people, approximate regional averages

Region | 2000 | 2020

Sub-Saharan Africa | 2 | 82

South Asia | 1 | 86

Europe | 55 | 121

Latin America | 12 | 104

Which cultural development was most directly facilitated by the trend shown?

- A) The end of popular culture across borders
- B) The disappearance of youth activism
- C) The rapid circulation of music, images, political messages, and social media content
- D) The restoration of isolated local information systems

A) The end of popular culture across borders

B) The disappearance of youth activism

C) The rapid circulation of music, images, political messages, and social media content

D) The restoration of isolated local information systems

APWH-MCQ2-037

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of northern Eurasia c. 1650 shows Russian forts spreading eastward along major rivers into Siberia. Arrows mark the collection of fur tribute from forest peoples and the movement of sable pelts westward toward Moscow.” Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

A) Russian expansion was limited to overseas colonies in the Atlantic.

B) Siberian expansion was unrelated to environmental resources.

C) Russian state expansion used river routes and fur resources to extend control eastward.

D) Forest peoples controlled Moscow’s central bureaucracy.

A) Russian expansion was limited to overseas colonies in the Atlantic.

B) Siberian expansion was unrelated to environmental resources.

C) Russian state expansion used river routes and fur resources to extend control eastward.

D) Forest peoples controlled Moscow’s central bureaucracy.

APWH-MCQ2-038

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of northern Eurasia c. 1650 shows Russian forts spreading eastward along major rivers into Siberia. Arrows mark the collection of fur tribute from forest peoples and the movement of sable pelts westward toward Moscow.” If the map were produced by a Russian official, which point of view would most likely shape it?

A) An emphasis on forts, tribute collection, and the orderly extension of state authority

B) A focus on the cultural autonomy of every Siberian community

- C) A rejection of resource extraction as a motive for expansion
- D) An argument that Russia had no interest in overland empire building

- A) An emphasis on forts, tribute collection, and the orderly extension of state authority
- B) A focus on the cultural autonomy of every Siberian community
- C) A rejection of resource extraction as a motive for expansion
- D) An argument that Russia had no interest in overland empire building

APWH-MCQ2-039

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of northern Eurasia c. 1650 shows Russian forts spreading eastward along major rivers into Siberia. Arrows mark the collection of fur tribute from forest peoples and the movement of sable pelts westward toward Moscow.” Which map feature most directly supports the claim that economic motives shaped Russian expansion?

- A) The location of northern forests
- B) The presence of major rivers
- C) The eastward spread of forts
- D) The movement of sable pelts westward toward Moscow

- A) The location of northern forests
- B) The presence of major rivers
- C) The eastward spread of forts
- D) The movement of sable pelts westward toward Moscow

APWH-MCQ2-040

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized workers’ petition, industrial city in western Europe, c. 1848: “The machines do not tire, but the children do. The owners speak of liberty in contracts, yet hunger leaves little liberty to refuse. We ask for shorter hours, inspection of factories, and the right to organize.” Which audience was the petition most likely intended to influence?

- A) Plantation overseers in the Caribbean
- B) Urban reformers, legislators, and workers debating industrial labor conditions
- C) Nomadic confederations in Central Asia
- D) Missionaries seeking to regulate overseas trade

- A) Plantation overseers in the Caribbean
- B) Urban reformers, legislators, and workers debating industrial labor conditions
- C) Nomadic confederations in Central Asia
- D) Missionaries seeking to regulate overseas trade

APWH-MCQ2-041

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized workers' petition, industrial city in western Europe, c. 1848: "The machines do not tire, but the children do. The owners speak of liberty in contracts, yet hunger leaves little liberty to refuse. We ask for shorter hours, inspection of factories, and the right to organize." Which broader context best explains the concerns expressed in the petition?

- A) The growth of factory labor and new social criticism during industrialization
- B) The decline of urban populations during industrialization
- C) The end of wage labor in nineteenth-century Europe
- D) The disappearance of child labor before the spread of factories

- A) The growth of factory labor and new social criticism during industrialization
- B) The decline of urban populations during industrialization
- C) The end of wage labor in nineteenth-century Europe
- D) The disappearance of child labor before the spread of factories

APWH-MCQ2-042

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized workers' petition, industrial city in western Europe, c. 1848: "The machines do not tire, but the children do. The owners speak of liberty in contracts, yet hunger leaves little liberty to refuse. We ask for shorter hours, inspection of factories, and the right to organize." The petition most directly reflects the rise of which ideology or movement?

- A) Mercantilism
- B) Absolutism
- C) Labor socialism and reform movements
- D) Manorialism

- A) Mercantilism
- B) Absolutism
- C) Labor socialism and reform movements
- D) Manorialism

APWH-MCQ2-043

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized workers' petition, industrial city in western Europe, c. 1848: "The machines do not tire, but the children do. The owners speak of liberty in contracts, yet hunger leaves little liberty to refuse. We ask for shorter hours, inspection of factories, and the right to organize." Which statement best evaluates the petition's argument?

- A) It defends laissez-faire contracts as fully equal for workers and owners.
- B) It argues that industrial workers should return to serfdom.
- C) It rejects state regulation of labor.
- D) It challenges the idea that formal contractual freedom is meaningful under conditions of poverty and unequal power.

- A) It defends laissez-faire contracts as fully equal for workers and owners.
- B) It argues that industrial workers should return to serfdom.
- C) It rejects state regulation of labor.
- D) It challenges the idea that formal contractual freedom is meaningful under conditions of poverty and unequal power.

APWH-MCQ2-044

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: "A map of New Zealand, c. 1860–1900, shows expanding settler farms, ports connected by steamship routes, and rail lines carrying wool and frozen meat to export harbors. Shaded areas mark Māori land losses near major settlement zones." Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

- A) Settler colonial expansion reshaped landholding and connected pastoral production to global markets.
- B) Māori communities gained complete control over settler ports.
- C) Industrial-era transportation had no effect on export agriculture.
- D) New Zealand remained isolated from global trade after 1860.

- A) Settler colonial expansion reshaped landholding and connected pastoral production to global markets.
- B) Māori communities gained complete control over settler ports.
- C) Industrial-era transportation had no effect on export agriculture.
- D) New Zealand remained isolated from global trade after 1860.

APWH-MCQ2-045

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Developments and Processes

Prompt:

Described map: "A map of New Zealand, c. 1860–1900, shows expanding settler farms, ports connected by steamship routes, and rail lines carrying wool and frozen meat to export harbors.

Shaded areas mark Māori land losses near major settlement zones.” Which technological development most directly supported the export pattern described?

- A) Movable-type printing
- B) Refrigerated shipping and steam transportation
- C) Gunpowder artillery in land-based empires
- D) The compass in medieval caravan trade

- A) Movable-type printing
- B) Refrigerated shipping and steam transportation
- C) Gunpowder artillery in land-based empires
- D) The compass in medieval caravan trade

APWH-MCQ2-046

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of New Zealand, c. 1860–1900, shows expanding settler farms, ports connected by steamship routes, and rail lines carrying wool and frozen meat to export harbors. Shaded areas mark Māori land losses near major settlement zones.” Which visual feature most directly shows the social impact of settler colonialism?

- A) The steamship routes
- B) The export harbors
- C) The rail lines
- D) The shaded areas marking Māori land losses

- A) The steamship routes
- B) The export harbors
- C) The rail lines
- D) The shaded areas marking Māori land losses

APWH-MCQ2-047

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of New Zealand, c. 1860–1900, shows expanding settler farms, ports connected by steamship routes, and rail lines carrying wool and frozen meat to export harbors. Shaded areas mark Māori land losses near major settlement zones.” Which argument is best supported by the map?

- A) Imperial economies could combine settler land acquisition, transportation infrastructure, and export agriculture.
- B) Industrialization ended settler colonialism in Oceania.
- C) Export agriculture declined as railroads expanded.
- D) Indigenous landholding expanded wherever global markets grew.

- A) Imperial economies could combine settler land acquisition, transportation infrastructure, and export agriculture.
- B) Industrialization ended settler colonialism in Oceania.
- C) Export agriculture declined as railroads expanded.
- D) Indigenous landholding expanded wherever global markets grew.

APWH-MCQ2-048

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Foreign trade at Guangzhou under Qing regulation, simplified pattern

Goods entering China | Goods leaving China | Rule noted by officials

Silver, clocks, woolens | Tea, silk, porcelain | Foreign merchants restricted to licensed trade seasons and approved intermediaries

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Qing officials attempted to regulate foreign trade while allowing selected commercial exchange.
- B) China banned all maritime commerce after 1450.
- C) European merchants controlled the entire Qing bureaucracy.
- D) Tea and porcelain had no role in global trade.

- A) Qing officials attempted to regulate foreign trade while allowing selected commercial exchange.
- B) China banned all maritime commerce after 1450.
- C) European merchants controlled the entire Qing bureaucracy.
- D) Tea and porcelain had no role in global trade.

APWH-MCQ2-049

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Table: Foreign trade at Guangzhou under Qing regulation, simplified pattern

Goods entering China | Goods leaving China | Rule noted by officials

Silver, clocks, woolens | Tea, silk, porcelain | Foreign merchants restricted to licensed trade seasons and approved intermediaries

Which purpose would Qing officials most likely have had in creating the rules described?

- A) To encourage foreign merchants to govern Chinese provinces
- B) To increase state supervision over foreign commercial activity
- C) To abolish the production of luxury goods
- D) To replace maritime commerce with nomadic pastoralism

- A) To encourage foreign merchants to govern Chinese provinces
- B) To increase state supervision over foreign commercial activity
- C) To abolish the production of luxury goods
- D) To replace maritime commerce with nomadic pastoralism

APWH-MCQ2-050

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Table: Foreign trade at Guangzhou under Qing regulation, simplified pattern

Goods entering China | Goods leaving China | Rule noted by officials

Silver, clocks, woolens | Tea, silk, porcelain | Foreign merchants restricted to licensed trade seasons and approved intermediaries

The goods leaving China in the table are best understood as part of which broader process?

- A) The global demand for Asian luxury and consumer goods
- B) The decline of all Chinese manufacturing
- C) The replacement of trade by missionary activity
- D) The isolation of East Asia from oceanic commerce

A) The global demand for Asian luxury and consumer goods

B) The decline of all Chinese manufacturing

C) The replacement of trade by missionary activity

D) The isolation of East Asia from oceanic commerce

APWH-MCQ2-051

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Table: Foreign trade at Guangzhou under Qing regulation, simplified pattern

Goods entering China | Goods leaving China | Rule noted by officials

Silver, clocks, woolens | Tea, silk, porcelain | Foreign merchants restricted to licensed trade seasons and approved intermediaries

Which earlier pattern of Afro-Eurasian exchange most closely resembles the demand for Chinese luxury goods shown in the table?

- A) The end of urban markets in Song China
- B) The isolation of East Asia from long-distance routes
- C) The movement of silk, porcelain, and other luxury goods through Silk Road and maritime networks
- D) The disappearance of merchant diasporas before 1450

A) The end of urban markets in Song China

B) The isolation of East Asia from long-distance routes

C) The movement of silk, porcelain, and other luxury goods through Silk Road and maritime networks

D) The disappearance of merchant diasporas before 1450

APWH-MCQ2-052

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Timeline: International and transregional claims to authority

c. 1250 — A ruler in Dar al-Islam sponsors judges, schools, and charitable foundations to display piety and justice.

1919 — International officials debate mandates over former empires after World War I.

1945 — The United Nations Charter refers to equal rights and self-determination.

1970s — Human rights organizations publicize abuses across national borders.

Which broader context best explains the c. 1250 entry?

- A) The decline of Islamic legal and educational institutions
- B) The spread of industrial capitalism
- C) The role of Islamic institutions in legitimizing rule and organizing urban society
- D) The creation of modern international law after World War II

A) The decline of Islamic legal and educational institutions

B) The spread of industrial capitalism

C) The role of Islamic institutions in legitimizing rule and organizing urban society

D) The creation of modern international law after World War II

APWH-MCQ2-053

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Timeline: International and transregional claims to authority

c. 1250 — A ruler in Dar al-Islam sponsors judges, schools, and charitable foundations to display piety and justice.

1919 — International officials debate mandates over former empires after World War I.

1945 — The United Nations Charter refers to equal rights and self-determination.

1970s — Human rights organizations publicize abuses across national borders.

Which purpose most directly shaped the mandate debates after World War I?

- A) To manage former imperial territories while claiming international oversight and eventual development
- B) To abolish all colonial rule immediately in 1919
- C) To restore the Mongol Empire
- D) To create a global free-trade zone without political supervision

A) To manage former imperial territories while claiming international oversight and eventual development

B) To abolish all colonial rule immediately in 1919

C) To restore the Mongol Empire

D) To create a global free-trade zone without political supervision

APWH-MCQ2-054

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Developments and Processes

Prompt:

Timeline: International and transregional claims to authority

c. 1250 — A ruler in Dar al-Islam sponsors judges, schools, and charitable foundations to display piety and justice.

1919 — International officials debate mandates over former empires after World War I.

1945 — The United Nations Charter refers to equal rights and self-determination.

1970s — Human rights organizations publicize abuses across national borders.

The 1945 reference to self-determination most directly contributed to which postwar development?

- A) The end of all nationalist movements
- B) The growth of anticolonial claims for independence in Asia and Africa
- C) The restoration of European empires without criticism
- D) The disappearance of international organizations

- A) The end of all nationalist movements
- B) The growth of anticolonial claims for independence in Asia and Africa
- C) The restoration of European empires without criticism
- D) The disappearance of international organizations

APWH-MCQ2-055

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Timeline: International and transregional claims to authority

c. 1250 — A ruler in Dar al-Islam sponsors judges, schools, and charitable foundations to display piety and justice.

1919 — International officials debate mandates over former empires after World War I.

1945 — The United Nations Charter refers to equal rights and self-determination.

1970s — Human rights organizations publicize abuses across national borders.

Which change over time is best shown by the timeline?

- A) Claims to legitimate authority became less connected to public values after 1900.
- B) Religious authority disappeared completely after 1250.
- C) International organizations eliminated all conflict after 1945.
- D) Ideas about justice and legitimacy increasingly operated through global institutions and transnational activism.

- A) Claims to legitimate authority became less connected to public values after 1900.
- B) Religious authority disappeared completely after 1250.
- C) International organizations eliminated all conflict after 1945.
- D) Ideas about justice and legitimacy increasingly operated through global institutions and transnational activism.

PART B — ANSWER KEY + EXPLANATIONS

APWH-MCQ2-001 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: To present the ruler as a legitimate provider of order, fertility, and religious merit — Explanation: The inscription links royal authority to irrigation, temple support, officials, and agricultural order.

APWH-MCQ2-002 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Managing water for wet-rice agriculture in a monsoon climate — Explanation: The reservoir, fields, and embankments show state efforts to manage water for rice cultivation.

APWH-MCQ2-003 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: “Rice from royal lands shall support the temple” — Explanation: This phrase directly connects royal resources and religious institutions.

APWH-MCQ2-004 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: A large temple complex connected to reservoirs and canals — Explanation: Angkor’s state power was closely tied to monumental architecture and water-management systems.

APWH-MCQ2-005 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Mongol rule facilitated commerce across parts of Eurasia. — Explanation: The account describes protected roads, relay stations, and goods moving across Mongol-controlled territory.

APWH-MCQ2-006 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: Merchants or envoys planning travel through Mongol-controlled territories — Explanation: Details about tablets, relay stations, horses, and safety would be useful to travelers and merchants.

APWH-MCQ2-007 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Relay stations” — Explanation: Relay stations are a direct example of infrastructure that supported movement and exchange.

APWH-MCQ2-008 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: The spread of epidemic diseases along exchange networks — Explanation: Increased cross-regional movement helped spread disease, including the Black Death, across trade routes.

APWH-MCQ2-009 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: The Mughal emperor used ceremonial rank and diverse elites to organize imperial authority. — Explanation: The painting shows ranked nobles, imperial ceremony, and diverse elite service around the emperor.

APWH-MCQ2-010 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: The incorporation of local and regional elites into imperial administration — Explanation: Rajput commanders served within the Mughal system, showing elite incorporation.

APWH-MCQ2-011 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Mughal rulers blended Persianate court culture with South Asian political traditions. — Explanation: Persianate scribes, Rajput commanders, and Mughal court ceremony show cultural and political synthesis.

APWH-MCQ2-012 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The clerk recording gifts and appointments — Explanation: Record keeping indicates bureaucratic management beyond military power.

APWH-MCQ2-013 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To regulate foreign contact and limit the political influence of Christianity — Explanation: The edict restricts missionaries, foreign ships, converts, and unauthorized voyages.

APWH-MCQ2-014 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Foreign teachings disturb loyalty” — Explanation: This phrase directly shows concern that Christianity could undermine political loyalty.

APWH-MCQ2-015 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: The rise of transoceanic European missionary and commercial activity in Asia — Explanation: Japanese restrictions responded to increased European maritime trade and missionary presence.

APWH-MCQ2-016 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: A state response to new global maritime connections — Explanation: The Tokugawa state regulated foreign contact produced by expanding oceanic networks.

APWH-MCQ2-017 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Enlightenment and Atlantic revolutionary ideas about popular sovereignty — Explanation: The letter uses sovereignty and anti-monarchical language associated with Atlantic revolutions.

APWH-MCQ2-018 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: “Distant ministers who know neither our roads nor our towns” — Explanation: This phrase criticizes rule by imperial officials unfamiliar with local conditions.

APWH-MCQ2-019 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: The spread of political language that challenged hereditary monarchy and imperial rule — Explanation: The source uses popular sovereignty to challenge distant royal authority.

APWH-MCQ2-020 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The author uses popular sovereignty to argue against rule by distant imperial officials. — Explanation: The author argues that sovereignty belongs to the people rather than a king across the sea.

APWH-MCQ2-021 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Egypt’s cotton economy became connected to global industrial demand and foreign financial influence. — Explanation: The table links high cotton exports to rising debt and foreign financial control.

APWH-MCQ2-022 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: “Heavy foreign control over finances” — Explanation: This phrase directly shows how economic dependence affected political autonomy.

APWH-MCQ2-023 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: The use of agricultural land and irrigation systems to supply industrial textile markets — Explanation: Cotton cultivation expanded to supply industrial textile production, reshaping land and irrigation use.

APWH-MCQ2-024 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: Steamship and canal traffic records showing faster movement of cotton to European mills — Explanation: Steamships and canals accelerated export flows and tied Egypt more tightly to industrial markets.

APWH-MCQ2-025 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Economic crisis made authoritarian promises of order more appealing to some voters. — Explanation: Breadlines and the promise of “order now” show how economic crisis could strengthen authoritarian movements.

APWH-MCQ2-026 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: The Great Depression and widespread doubts about liberal democratic governments — Explanation: The breadline and weakened parliamentary door reflect Great Depression-era instability and political disillusionment.

APWH-MCQ2-027 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: The uniformed leader holds a baton while promising “order now.” — Explanation: The baton suggests coercion behind authoritarian promises of order.

APWH-MCQ2-028 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The expansion of aggressive nationalist states and the outbreak of World War II — Explanation: Fascist and authoritarian movements contributed to militarism, expansionism, and World War II.

APWH-MCQ2-029 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To promote a postcolonial development program based on rural cooperation and state planning — Explanation: The speech calls for schools, clinics, cooperative farms, and national development after independence.

APWH-MCQ2-030 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “Build schools, clinics, and cooperative farms” — Explanation: This phrase shows the speaker’s focus on transforming village life after independence.

APWH-MCQ2-031 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: The effort to create economic development while reducing foreign dependency — Explanation: The speech rejects foreign ownership and emphasizes cooperative development.

APWH-MCQ2-032 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: The speaker defines true independence as political freedom combined with social services, rural development, and economic control. — Explanation: The speaker links independence to villages, schools, clinics, cooperatives, and reduced foreign dependence.

APWH-MCQ2-033 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Mobile communication expanded globally, but regions began from unequal levels of access. — Explanation: The table shows growth in all regions, but starting points in 2000 differed greatly.

APWH-MCQ2-034 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: The expansion of mobile banking, online commerce, and real-time communication — Explanation: Expanding mobile access supported digital economic activity and communication.

APWH-MCQ2-035 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Sub-Saharan Africa increased from 2 to 82, and South Asia increased from 1 to 86. — Explanation: These figures show major expansion in regions that had very low access in 2000.

APWH-MCQ2-036 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The rapid circulation of music, images, political messages, and social media content — Explanation: Mobile connectivity facilitated rapid global cultural exchange and digital communication.

APWH-MCQ2-037 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: Russian state expansion used river routes and fur resources to extend control eastward. — Explanation: The map shows forts, river routes, fur tribute, and movement of pelts toward Moscow.

APWH-MCQ2-038 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: An emphasis on forts, tribute collection, and the orderly extension of state authority — Explanation: A Russian official would likely frame expansion as orderly state-building and tribute collection.

APWH-MCQ2-039 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: The movement of sable pelts westward toward Moscow — Explanation: The movement of furs shows the economic motive behind expansion.

APWH-MCQ2-040 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: Urban reformers, legislators, and workers debating industrial labor conditions — Explanation: The petition asks for labor regulation and organizing rights, making reformers, lawmakers, and workers the likely audience.

APWH-MCQ2-041 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: The growth of factory labor and new social criticism during industrialization — Explanation: The petition reflects industrial working conditions, child labor, and calls for reform.

APWH-MCQ2-042 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: Labor socialism and reform movements — Explanation: The petition criticizes unequal labor contracts and calls for collective organization and factory regulation.

APWH-MCQ2-043 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: It challenges the idea that formal contractual freedom is meaningful under conditions of poverty and unequal power. — Explanation: The petition argues that hunger limits workers' ability to refuse unfair labor conditions.

APWH-MCQ2-044 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Settler colonial expansion reshaped landholding and connected pastoral production to global markets. — Explanation: The map links settler farms, Māori land losses, railways, ports, and exports.

APWH-MCQ2-045 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: Refrigerated shipping and steam transportation — Explanation: Refrigeration and steam transport enabled distant export of meat and wool through global markets.

APWH-MCQ2-046 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: The shaded areas marking Māori land losses — Explanation: The shaded areas directly indicate Indigenous land loss caused by settler expansion.

APWH-MCQ2-047 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Imperial economies could combine settler land acquisition, transportation infrastructure, and export agriculture. — Explanation: The map shows land acquisition, rail and port infrastructure, and export-oriented pastoral production.

APWH-MCQ2-048 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Qing officials attempted to regulate foreign trade while allowing selected commercial exchange. — Explanation: The table shows foreign goods entering, Chinese goods leaving, and official restrictions on merchants.

APWH-MCQ2-049 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To increase state supervision over foreign commercial activity — Explanation: Licensed seasons and approved intermediaries show Qing efforts to supervise foreign trade.

APWH-MCQ2-050 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: The global demand for Asian luxury and consumer goods — Explanation: Tea, silk, and porcelain were important Asian goods in early modern global commerce.

APWH-MCQ2-051 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The movement of silk, porcelain, and other luxury goods through Silk Road and maritime networks — Explanation: Earlier Afro-Eurasian networks also carried Chinese luxury goods over land and sea.

APWH-MCQ2-052 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The role of Islamic institutions in legitimizing rule and organizing urban society — Explanation: Sponsoring judges, schools, and charitable foundations reflected Islamic political and social legitimacy.

APWH-MCQ2-053 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To manage former imperial territories while claiming international oversight and eventual development — Explanation: Mandates were justified as international oversight of former imperial territories after World War I.

APWH-MCQ2-054 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: The growth of anticolonial claims for independence in Asia and Africa — Explanation: Self-determination language strengthened postwar independence claims.

APWH-MCQ2-055 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: Ideas about justice and legitimacy increasingly operated through global institutions and transnational activism. — Explanation: The timeline moves from religiously grounded rule to international organizations and global human-rights activism.

SECTION 2 — SERIES DO-NOT-REPEAT BANK UPDATE — DO NOT IMPORT

SERIES DO-NOT-REPEAT BANK UPDATE — APWH-MCQ2

· APWH-MCQ2-001–004: Unit 1; c. 1200–1450; Angkor/Southeast Asia; original temple inscription; reservoirs, rice agriculture, temple patronage, ruler legitimacy; reasoning paths include purpose, environmental management, religion-state connection, material/architectural state power; visual/material type: temple-reservoir complex; misconception targeted: treating Southeast Asian state legitimacy as purely military or secular.

· APWH-MCQ2-005–008: Unit 2; c. 1200–1450; Central Asia/Eurasian Silk Roads; original travel account; Mongol relay stations, safe conduct tablets, caravan exchange, disease diffusion; reasoning paths include exchange-network development, audience, infrastructure evidence, unintended environmental/disease consequence; misconception targeted: assuming Mongol rule only disrupted trade or that exchange spread goods without disease.

· APWH-MCQ2-009–012: Unit 3; c. 1450–1750; Mughal Empire/South Asia; described court painting; imperial ceremony, ranked nobles, Rajput commanders, Persianate scribes, bureaucratic record keeping; reasoning paths include visual analysis, elite incorporation, cultural contextualization, bureaucratic evidence; misconception targeted: assuming Mughal authority excluded local elites or depended only on conquest.

· APWH-MCQ2-013–016: Unit 4; c. 1450–1750; Tokugawa Japan/East Asia; original restriction edict; missionaries, Christianity, regulated ports, foreign trade inspection; reasoning paths include purpose, religious concern, maritime context, state response to global connections; misconception targeted: treating Japan as entirely isolated or as passively controlled by Europeans.

· APWH-MCQ2-017–020: Unit 5; c. 1750–1900; South American creole independence movement; original revolutionary letter; popular sovereignty, distant monarchy, local knowledge, Atlantic revolutionary ideology; reasoning paths include intellectual causation, source evidence, ideological shift, argument evaluation; misconception targeted: reducing Latin American independence to military events without political ideas.

- APWH-MCQ2-021–024: Unit 6; c. 1750–1900; Egypt/Nile cotton economy/global textile markets; economic data table; cotton exports, foreign debt, financial control, steamship and canal integration; reasoning paths include data interpretation, evidence for weakened autonomy, environmental-economic context, transportation technology claim; misconception targeted: treating Egypt as outside global capitalism or assuming exports automatically strengthened autonomy.

- APWH-MCQ2-025–028: Unit 7; c. 1900–present; Europe/interwar crisis; described political cartoon; Great Depression, breadlines, weakened parliament, authoritarian promise of order, fascist coercion; reasoning paths include visual interpretation, economic contextualization, source-detail evidence, causation toward World War II; misconception targeted: separating interwar economic crisis from authoritarian politics.

- APWH-MCQ2-029–032: Unit 8; c. 1900–present; Tanzania/postcolonial Africa; original policy speech; rural cooperation, schools, clinics, cooperative farms, state planning, African socialism; reasoning paths include purpose, social transformation evidence, postcolonial economic challenge, argument evaluation; misconception targeted: viewing independence as only symbolic or assuming postcolonial states rejected development planning.

- APWH-MCQ2-033–036: Unit 9; c. 1900–present; global digital communication; mobile phone subscription data table; digital divide, mobile banking, online commerce, cultural circulation through social media; reasoning paths include data interpretation, globalization process, evidence of access expansion, cultural diffusion; misconception targeted: assuming globalization created equal access or eliminated regional differences.

- APWH-MCQ2-037–039: Unit 3; c. 1450–1750; Russian expansion into Siberia; described map; forts, river routes, fur tribute, sable pelts, Moscow-centered extraction; reasoning paths include map interpretation, official point of view, economic motive evidence; misconception targeted: treating Russian expansion as overseas-only or unrelated to environmental resources.

- APWH-MCQ2-040–043: Unit 5; c. 1750–1900; western European industrial labor; original workers' petition; child labor, machines, unequal contracts, shorter hours, factory inspection, right to organize; reasoning paths include audience, industrial contextualization, labor-socialist ideology, critique of contractual freedom; misconception targeted: assuming wage contracts were always equal or industrialization removed labor exploitation.

- APWH-MCQ2-044–047: Unit 6; c. 1750–1900; New Zealand/Oceania; described settler-colonial map; Māori land loss, settler farms, rail lines, steamship routes, wool and frozen meat exports; reasoning paths include map interpretation, transportation technology, visual evidence of Indigenous dispossession, export-agriculture argument; misconception targeted: assuming settler colonies were isolated from industrial global markets or harmless to Indigenous landholding.

- APWH-MCQ2-048–051: Units 4 and 2; c. 1450–1750 and c. 1200–1450; Qing China/Guangzhou trade and earlier Chinese luxury-goods exchange; trade table; silver, clocks, woolens, tea, silk, porcelain, licensed trade seasons, approved intermediaries; reasoning paths include data/table interpretation, state supervision purpose, global demand for Asian goods, continuity with earlier Silk Road/maritime luxury trade; misconception targeted: treating Qing regulation as a total trade ban or East Asia as commercially isolated.

- APWH-MCQ2-052–055: Units 1, 7, 8, and 9; c. 1200–1450 and c. 1900–present; Dar al-Islam, League of Nations mandates, United Nations, human-rights NGOs; timeline stimulus; Islamic legitimacy through judges/schools/charity, post-WWI mandates, post-1945 self-determination, 1970s transnational activism; reasoning paths include contextualization, institutional purpose, decolonization development, CCOT in legitimacy and justice claims; misconception targeted: assuming legitimacy claims were static or that international institutions immediately ended imperial power.