

SECTION 1 — IMPORT-READY SOURCE FILE

AP World History: Modern MCQ Practice Exam 11

PART A — QUESTIONS

APWH-MCQ11-001

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized royal instruction, Goryeo Korea, c. 1250: “Let the district officials send grain records to the capital and let the monasteries pray for the protection of the realm. Scholars trained in the classics shall review petitions, while military commanders guard the northern roads.” What was the most likely purpose of the instruction?

- A) To present government as a system linking bureaucracy, Buddhist institutions, scholarship, and defense
 - B) To abolish all written administration in Korea
 - C) To place Korea under direct rule by Japanese shoguns
 - D) To end the political role of scholars and officials
- A) To present government as a system linking bureaucracy, Buddhist institutions, scholarship, and defense
- B) To abolish all written administration in Korea
- C) To place Korea under direct rule by Japanese shoguns
- D) To end the political role of scholars and officials

APWH-MCQ11-002

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized royal instruction, Goryeo Korea, c. 1250: “Let the district officials send grain records to the capital and let the monasteries pray for the protection of the realm. Scholars trained in the classics shall review petitions, while military commanders guard the northern roads.” Which phrase best supports the claim that Buddhist institutions contributed to political legitimacy?

- A) “Military commanders”
 - B) “Grain records”
 - C) “Monasteries pray for the protection of the realm”
 - D) “Scholars trained in the classics”
- A) “Military commanders”
- B) “Grain records”
- C) “Monasteries pray for the protection of the realm”
- D) “Scholars trained in the classics”

APWH-MCQ11-003

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized royal instruction, Goryeo Korea, c. 1250: “Let the district officials send grain records to the capital and let the monasteries pray for the protection of the realm. Scholars trained in the classics shall review petitions, while military commanders guard the northern roads.” Which broader context best explains the reference to grain records?

- A) East Asian states often used bureaucratic records to manage agrarian revenue and local administration.
- B) Korea had no agricultural taxation before 1450.
- C) Grain records were used only in Atlantic plantation colonies.
- D) Goryeo officials rejected written records as foreign technology.
- A) East Asian states often used bureaucratic records to manage agrarian revenue and local administration.
- B) Korea had no agricultural taxation before 1450.
- C) Grain records were used only in Atlantic plantation colonies.
- D) Goryeo officials rejected written records as foreign technology.

APWH-MCQ11-004

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized royal instruction, Goryeo Korea, c. 1250: “Let the district officials send grain records to the capital and let the monasteries pray for the protection of the realm. Scholars trained in the classics shall review petitions, while military commanders guard the northern roads.” The passage most directly suggests which social arrangement?

- A) A state without religious, military, or scholarly specialists
- B) A merchant republic controlled only by overseas traders
- C) A hierarchy involving officials, monks, scholars, commanders, and rural producers
- D) A pastoral society without a capital city
- A) A state without religious, military, or scholarly specialists
- B) A merchant republic controlled only by overseas traders
- C) A hierarchy involving officials, monks, scholars, commanders, and rural producers
- D) A pastoral society without a capital city

APWH-MCQ11-005

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Secondary-source description of Māori communities in Aotearoa New Zealand before 1450:

“Settlements included fortified pā on ridges, storage pits for kūmara, carved meeting spaces, and paths linking coastal fishing zones with inland gardens.” Which interpretation is best supported by the description?

- A) Māori communities adapted settlement, food storage, and defense to varied island environments.
 - B) Māori societies were founded by European settlers before 1450.
 - C) Māori communities avoided agriculture and fishing.
 - D) Fortified pā were built only after industrial railways arrived.
- A) Māori communities adapted settlement, food storage, and defense to varied island environments.
 - B) Māori societies were founded by European settlers before 1450.
 - C) Māori communities avoided agriculture and fishing.
 - D) Fortified pā were built only after industrial railways arrived.

APWH-MCQ11-006

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Tamil merchant-guild inscription, Southeast Asian port, c. 1250: “The guild protects its warehouse, honors the temple with lamps, and pays the ruler’s harbor tax. Ships arrive with cloth, pepper, camphor, and bronze vessels, and disputes among merchants shall be settled by the elders.” What was the most likely purpose of the inscription?

- A) To announce that South Asian merchants avoided overseas ports
 - B) To record the rights, religious patronage, taxes, and commercial order of a merchant community
 - C) To abolish all temple donations by merchants
 - D) To replace maritime commerce with pastoral nomadism
- A) To announce that South Asian merchants avoided overseas ports
 - B) To record the rights, religious patronage, taxes, and commercial order of a merchant community
 - C) To abolish all temple donations by merchants
 - D) To replace maritime commerce with pastoral nomadism

APWH-MCQ11-007

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Tamil merchant-guild inscription, Southeast Asian port, c. 1250: “The guild protects its warehouse, honors the temple with lamps, and pays the ruler’s harbor tax. Ships arrive with cloth, pepper, camphor, and bronze vessels, and disputes among merchants shall be settled by the elders.” Which phrase best supports the claim that commerce and religious patronage were connected?

- A) “Honors the temple with lamps”
- B) “Ships arrive”
- C) “Harbor tax”

- D) “Settled by the elders”
- A) “Honors the temple with lamps”
- B) “Ships arrive”
- C) “Harbor tax”
- D) “Settled by the elders”

APWH-MCQ11-008

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Tamil merchant-guild inscription, Southeast Asian port, c. 1250: “The guild protects its warehouse, honors the temple with lamps, and pays the ruler’s harbor tax. Ships arrive with cloth, pepper, camphor, and bronze vessels, and disputes among merchants shall be settled by the elders.” Which broader context best explains the ruler’s harbor tax?

- A) Southeast Asian rulers could profit from Indian Ocean trade by taxing ports and protecting merchant communities.
- B) Maritime taxes disappeared after 1200.
- C) South Asian merchants controlled Southeast Asian states directly.
- D) Harbor taxes were used only in Atlantic colonial ports.
- A) Southeast Asian rulers could profit from Indian Ocean trade by taxing ports and protecting merchant communities.
- B) Maritime taxes disappeared after 1200.
- C) South Asian merchants controlled Southeast Asian states directly.
- D) Harbor taxes were used only in Atlantic colonial ports.

APWH-MCQ11-009

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized Tamil merchant-guild inscription, Southeast Asian port, c. 1250: “The guild protects its warehouse, honors the temple with lamps, and pays the ruler’s harbor tax. Ships arrive with cloth, pepper, camphor, and bronze vessels, and disputes among merchants shall be settled by the elders.” The inscription most directly illustrates which feature of Indian Ocean commerce?

- A) Merchant communities could maintain institutions abroad while operating within local political systems.
- B) Merchant guilds prevented cultural exchange across the Indian Ocean.
- C) Overseas merchants always ruled ports without local rulers.
- D) Indian Ocean trade ended the use of warehouses and contracts.
- A) Merchant communities could maintain institutions abroad while operating within local political systems.
- B) Merchant guilds prevented cultural exchange across the Indian Ocean.
- C) Overseas merchants always ruled ports without local rulers.
- D) Indian Ocean trade ended the use of warehouses and contracts.

APWH-MCQ11-010

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of the Arabian Sea c. 1300 shows seasonal arrows from Gujarat, Hormuz, Aden, and East African ports. Notes identify dhow routes, pearl banks, horse shipments, and monsoon wind timing.” Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

A) Monsoon knowledge and sailing technology helped coordinate commerce across the Arabian Sea.

B) Arabian Sea trade depended on steamships and telegraphs.

C) Gujarat and Aden were isolated from maritime exchange.

D) Horse shipments moved only by trans-Saharan caravan routes.

A) Monsoon knowledge and sailing technology helped coordinate commerce across the Arabian Sea.

B) Arabian Sea trade depended on steamships and telegraphs.

C) Gujarat and Aden were isolated from maritime exchange.

D) Horse shipments moved only by trans-Saharan caravan routes.

APWH-MCQ11-011

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Qing frontier memorial, c. 1720: “Banner officers shall report on pasture disputes, and lamas at the frontier monastery shall receive gifts for prayers of loyalty. Mongol nobles who send tribute horses will keep their titles, but unauthorized tax demands on caravans are forbidden.” What was the most likely purpose of the memorial?

A) To coordinate frontier administration through military officials, religious patronage, noble titles, and trade regulation

B) To abolish all Mongol noble titles

C) To end Qing involvement in Inner Asian frontier politics

D) To replace caravan trade with Atlantic plantation labor

A) To coordinate frontier administration through military officials, religious patronage, noble titles, and trade regulation

B) To abolish all Mongol noble titles

C) To end Qing involvement in Inner Asian frontier politics

D) To replace caravan trade with Atlantic plantation labor

APWH-MCQ11-012

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Qing frontier memorial, c. 1720: “Banner officers shall report on pasture disputes, and lamas at the frontier monastery shall receive gifts for prayers of loyalty. Mongol nobles who send tribute horses will keep their titles, but unauthorized tax demands on caravans are forbidden.”

Which phrase best supports the claim that religious patronage helped Qing frontier rule?

- A) “Pasture disputes”
 - B) “Lamas at the frontier monastery shall receive gifts”
 - C) “Tribute horses”
 - D) “Unauthorized tax demands”
- A) “Pasture disputes”
 - B) “Lamas at the frontier monastery shall receive gifts”
 - C) “Tribute horses”
 - D) “Unauthorized tax demands”

APWH-MCQ11-013

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Qing frontier memorial, c. 1720: “Banner officers shall report on pasture disputes, and lamas at the frontier monastery shall receive gifts for prayers of loyalty. Mongol nobles who send tribute horses will keep their titles, but unauthorized tax demands on caravans are forbidden.”

Which broader context best explains the reference to Mongol nobles keeping titles?

- A) Qing rulers often incorporated Inner Asian elites into imperial administration.
 - B) Qing rulers eliminated all frontier elites after 1644.
 - C) Mongol nobles were elected by European parliaments.
 - D) Inner Asia had no political relationship with Qing rule.
- A) Qing rulers often incorporated Inner Asian elites into imperial administration.
 - B) Qing rulers eliminated all frontier elites after 1644.
 - C) Mongol nobles were elected by European parliaments.
 - D) Inner Asia had no political relationship with Qing rule.

APWH-MCQ11-014

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized Qing frontier memorial, c. 1720: “Banner officers shall report on pasture disputes, and lamas at the frontier monastery shall receive gifts for prayers of loyalty. Mongol nobles who send tribute horses will keep their titles, but unauthorized tax demands on caravans are forbidden.” The memorial most directly suggests which relationship between state power and commerce?

- A) Imperial governments could regulate frontier trade while incorporating local elites.
- B) Caravans were irrelevant to Qing frontier policy.
- C) Frontier trade always operated without state oversight.

- D) Qing rulers rejected all tribute relationships.
- A) Imperial governments could regulate frontier trade while incorporating local elites.
- B) Caravans were irrelevant to Qing frontier policy.
- C) Frontier trade always operated without state oversight.
- D) Qing rulers rejected all tribute relationships.

APWH-MCQ11-015

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described Romanov service-nobility portrait, Russia, c. 1680: “A nobleman stands beside an estate register and a cavalry saber. Behind him, peasants plow fields near a wooden church, while a clerk records households for tax and military service.” Which interpretation is best supported by the portrait?

- A) Russian nobles gained status through service, landholding, and control over dependent peasants.
- B) Russian nobles rejected military service after 1600.
- C) Russian peasants controlled the tax registers.
- D) Romanov rule depended entirely on overseas colonies.
- A) Russian nobles gained status through service, landholding, and control over dependent peasants.
- B) Russian nobles rejected military service after 1600.
- C) Russian peasants controlled the tax registers.
- D) Romanov rule depended entirely on overseas colonies.

APWH-MCQ11-016

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described Romanov service-nobility portrait, Russia, c. 1680: “A nobleman stands beside an estate register and a cavalry saber. Behind him, peasants plow fields near a wooden church, while a clerk records households for tax and military service.” Which detail best supports the claim that peasants were tied to elite power?

- A) “A wooden church”
- B) “A cavalry saber”
- C) “Peasants plow fields”
- D) “A nobleman stands”
- A) “A wooden church”
- B) “A cavalry saber”
- C) “Peasants plow fields”
- D) “A nobleman stands”

APWH-MCQ11-017

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Described Romanov service-nobility portrait, Russia, c. 1680: “A nobleman stands beside an estate register and a cavalry saber. Behind him, peasants plow fields near a wooden church, while a clerk records households for tax and military service.” Which argument is best supported by the portrait?

A) Romanov state-building connected elite service, agrarian control, taxation, and military obligation.

B) Russian state power declined because nobles refused service.

C) Estate records show that Russia lacked bureaucracy.

D) Peasant labor was unrelated to noble status.

A) Romanov state-building connected elite service, agrarian control, taxation, and military obligation.

B) Russian state power declined because nobles refused service.

C) Estate records show that Russia lacked bureaucracy.

D) Peasant labor was unrelated to noble status.

APWH-MCQ11-018

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized French colonial ordinance, Caribbean, c. 1685: “The enslaved shall be baptized and instructed, but those who run away shall be punished. Masters must provide food and clothing, and colonial judges shall record penalties so that plantation order is preserved.” What was the most likely purpose of the ordinance?

A) To regulate enslaved labor and social control in a plantation colony

B) To abolish slavery throughout the French empire

C) To give enslaved people equal citizenship rights

D) To end plantation production in the Caribbean

A) To regulate enslaved labor and social control in a plantation colony

B) To abolish slavery throughout the French empire

C) To give enslaved people equal citizenship rights

D) To end plantation production in the Caribbean

APWH-MCQ11-019

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized French colonial ordinance, Caribbean, c. 1685: “The enslaved shall be baptized and instructed, but those who run away shall be punished. Masters must provide food and clothing, and colonial judges shall record penalties so that plantation order is preserved.” Which phrase best supports the claim that coercion was built into the legal system?

- A) “Baptized and instructed”
- B) “Colonial judges shall record penalties”
- C) “Provide food and clothing”
- D) “Plantation order”
- A) “Baptized and instructed”
- B) “Colonial judges shall record penalties”
- C) “Provide food and clothing”
- D) “Plantation order”

APWH-MCQ11-020

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized French colonial ordinance, Caribbean, c. 1685: “The enslaved shall be baptized and instructed, but those who run away shall be punished. Masters must provide food and clothing, and colonial judges shall record penalties so that plantation order is preserved.” Which broader context best explains the reference to baptism and instruction?

- A) European colonial powers often used Christianity to justify and regulate social order in slave societies.
- B) Plantation colonies rejected all missionary activity.
- C) Caribbean colonies were governed by Buddhist monasteries.
- D) Baptism ended enslaved status automatically throughout the Atlantic world.
- A) European colonial powers often used Christianity to justify and regulate social order in slave societies.
- B) Plantation colonies rejected all missionary activity.
- C) Caribbean colonies were governed by Buddhist monasteries.
- D) Baptism ended enslaved status automatically throughout the Atlantic world.

APWH-MCQ11-021

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized French colonial ordinance, Caribbean, c. 1685: “The enslaved shall be baptized and instructed, but those who run away shall be punished. Masters must provide food and clothing, and colonial judges shall record penalties so that plantation order is preserved.” Which statement best evaluates the ordinance?

- A) It shows that plantation economies relied on legal systems that combined labor discipline, religious instruction, and master authority.
- B) It proves that slavery was based entirely on voluntary labor contracts.
- C) It argues that colonial judges had no role in plantation society.
- D) It shows that religion made plantation discipline unnecessary.
- A) It shows that plantation economies relied on legal systems that combined labor discipline, religious instruction, and master authority.

B) It proves that slavery was based entirely on voluntary labor contracts.

C) It argues that colonial judges had no role in plantation society.

D) It shows that religion made plantation discipline unnecessary.

APWH-MCQ11-022

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of the North Atlantic c. 1500–1700 shows Basque, Portuguese, English, and French ships sailing to Grand Banks fishing grounds. Shore stations dry cod, and arrows mark salted fish moving to Iberian, Caribbean, and Mediterranean markets.” Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

A) North Atlantic fisheries connected maritime labor, food preservation, and transoceanic markets.

B) Cod fishing had no relationship to Atlantic commerce.

C) The Grand Banks were used only by inland caravan merchants.

D) Salted fish moved only within local villages.

A) North Atlantic fisheries connected maritime labor, food preservation, and transoceanic markets.

B) Cod fishing had no relationship to Atlantic commerce.

C) The Grand Banks were used only by inland caravan merchants.

D) Salted fish moved only within local villages.

APWH-MCQ11-023

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of the North Atlantic c. 1500–1700 shows Basque, Portuguese, English, and French ships sailing to Grand Banks fishing grounds. Shore stations dry cod, and arrows mark salted fish moving to Iberian, Caribbean, and Mediterranean markets.” Which feature best supports the claim that preservation technology shaped trade?

A) “Basque, Portuguese, English, and French ships”

B) “Shore stations dry cod”

C) “Grand Banks fishing grounds”

D) “Caribbean and Mediterranean markets”

A) “Basque, Portuguese, English, and French ships”

B) “Shore stations dry cod”

C) “Grand Banks fishing grounds”

D) “Caribbean and Mediterranean markets”

APWH-MCQ11-024

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of the North Atlantic c. 1500–1700 shows Basque, Portuguese, English, and French ships sailing to Grand Banks fishing grounds. Shore stations dry cod, and arrows mark salted fish moving to Iberian, Caribbean, and Mediterranean markets.” The trade shown most directly illustrates which broader process?

A) Oceanic expansion created commodity networks involving extraction, preservation, and distant consumption.

B) Atlantic commerce was limited to silver and enslaved labor.

C) European fishing communities avoided overseas markets.

D) Maritime food production ended after 1500.

A) Oceanic expansion created commodity networks involving extraction, preservation, and distant consumption.

B) Atlantic commerce was limited to silver and enslaved labor.

C) European fishing communities avoided overseas markets.

D) Maritime food production ended after 1500.

APWH-MCQ11-025

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Indian National Congress petition, c. 1885: “We ask not disorder but representation. If the empire claims justice, Indian voices must enter councils that decide taxation, examinations, and public works. Education has prepared loyal subjects to speak as citizens.” Which audience was the petition most likely intended to influence?

A) British officials and educated Indian political reformers

B) Mongol cavalry commanders

C) Spanish planters in the Caribbean

D) Cold War oil ministers

A) British officials and educated Indian political reformers

B) Mongol cavalry commanders

C) Spanish planters in the Caribbean

D) Cold War oil ministers

APWH-MCQ11-026

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Indian National Congress petition, c. 1885: “We ask not disorder but representation. If the empire claims justice, Indian voices must enter councils that decide taxation, examinations, and public works. Education has prepared loyal subjects to speak as citizens.” Which phrase best supports the claim that the petition linked education to political participation?

- A) “We ask not disorder”
- B) “Education has prepared loyal subjects to speak as citizens”
- C) “Public works”
- D) “The empire claims justice”
- A) “We ask not disorder”
- B) “Education has prepared loyal subjects to speak as citizens”
- C) “Public works”
- D) “The empire claims justice”

APWH-MCQ11-027

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Indian National Congress petition, c. 1885: “We ask not disorder but representation. If the empire claims justice, Indian voices must enter councils that decide taxation, examinations, and public works. Education has prepared loyal subjects to speak as citizens.” Which broader context best explains the petition?

- A) Educated colonial elites used liberal political language to demand greater participation in imperial governance.
- B) Indian political organizations rejected all forms of representation.
- C) British India had no educated urban elites after 1850.
- D) The petition reflected decolonization after World War II.
- A) Educated colonial elites used liberal political language to demand greater participation in imperial governance.
- B) Indian political organizations rejected all forms of representation.
- C) British India had no educated urban elites after 1850.
- D) The petition reflected decolonization after World War II.

APWH-MCQ11-028

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized Indian National Congress petition, c. 1885: “We ask not disorder but representation. If the empire claims justice, Indian voices must enter councils that decide taxation, examinations, and public works. Education has prepared loyal subjects to speak as citizens.” Which statement best evaluates the petition’s argument?

- A) It rejects political participation as dangerous to educated Indians.
- B) It argues that imperial claims of justice require representative inclusion of Indian voices.
- C) It claims taxation should be decided only by military commanders.
- D) It calls for immediate abolition of all councils.
- A) It rejects political participation as dangerous to educated Indians.
- B) It argues that imperial claims of justice require representative inclusion of Indian voices.

- C) It claims taxation should be decided only by military commanders.
- D) It calls for immediate abolition of all councils.

APWH-MCQ11-029

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized abolitionist pamphlet, Britain, c. 1790: “The sugar in the teacup is sweetened by chains. Let households refuse slave-grown goods and let Parliament hear that Christian conscience and natural rights condemn the trade in human beings.” What was the most likely purpose of the pamphlet?

- A) To defend the Atlantic slave trade as morally necessary
- B) To encourage consumers and lawmakers to oppose slavery and the slave trade
- C) To argue that sugar had no connection to coerced labor
- D) To promote plantation expansion in the Caribbean
- A) To defend the Atlantic slave trade as morally necessary
- B) To encourage consumers and lawmakers to oppose slavery and the slave trade
- C) To argue that sugar had no connection to coerced labor
- D) To promote plantation expansion in the Caribbean

APWH-MCQ11-030

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized abolitionist pamphlet, Britain, c. 1790: “The sugar in the teacup is sweetened by chains. Let households refuse slave-grown goods and let Parliament hear that Christian conscience and natural rights condemn the trade in human beings.” Which phrase best supports the claim that consumer behavior was used as a political tool?

- A) “Christian conscience”
- B) “Let households refuse slave-grown goods”
- C) “Natural rights”
- D) “The trade in human beings”
- A) “Christian conscience”
- B) “Let households refuse slave-grown goods”
- C) “Natural rights”
- D) “The trade in human beings”

APWH-MCQ11-031

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized abolitionist pamphlet, Britain, c. 1790: “The sugar in the teacup is sweetened by chains. Let households refuse slave-grown goods and let Parliament hear that Christian conscience and natural rights condemn the trade in human beings.” Which broader ideological context best explains the pamphlet’s language?

- A) Abolitionism drew on religious morality and Enlightenment ideas about natural rights.
 - B) Abolitionists rejected all moral arguments.
 - C) Enlightenment thinkers universally defended plantation slavery.
 - D) Consumer boycotts appeared only after the Cold War.
- A) Abolitionism drew on religious morality and Enlightenment ideas about natural rights.
 - B) Abolitionists rejected all moral arguments.
 - C) Enlightenment thinkers universally defended plantation slavery.
 - D) Consumer boycotts appeared only after the Cold War.

APWH-MCQ11-032

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized abolitionist pamphlet, Britain, c. 1790: “The sugar in the teacup is sweetened by chains. Let households refuse slave-grown goods and let Parliament hear that Christian conscience and natural rights condemn the trade in human beings.” The pamphlet most directly connects social reform to which political institution?

- A) Parliament as a target for public pressure and legal change
 - B) A nomadic council regulating caravan tolls
 - C) A colonial mission town in Paraguay
 - D) A Cold War international space agency
- A) Parliament as a target for public pressure and legal change
 - B) A nomadic council regulating caravan tolls
 - C) A colonial mission town in Paraguay
 - D) A Cold War international space agency

APWH-MCQ11-033

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Teak extraction in British Burma, simplified pattern

Period | Reported development

1850s | Forest leases expand along river valleys

1880s | Steam sawmills and river transport increase timber exports

1900s | Officials create reserved forests and restrict village use

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Colonial rule linked resource extraction, industrial technology, and environmental regulation.

- B) Teak exports declined because steam technology disappeared.
- C) British officials avoided forest regulation in Burma.
- D) Village use of forests expanded without restriction after 1900.
- A) Colonial rule linked resource extraction, industrial technology, and environmental regulation.
- B) Teak exports declined because steam technology disappeared.
- C) British officials avoided forest regulation in Burma.
- D) Village use of forests expanded without restriction after 1900.

APWH-MCQ11-034

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Table: Teak extraction in British Burma, simplified pattern

Period | Reported development

1850s | Forest leases expand along river valleys

1880s | Steam sawmills and river transport increase timber exports

1900s | Officials create reserved forests and restrict village use

Which evidence best supports the claim that industrial technology intensified extraction?

- A) “Forest leases”
- B) “Steam sawmills and river transport increase timber exports”
- C) “Reserved forests”
- D) “Restrict village use”
- A) “Forest leases”
- B) “Steam sawmills and river transport increase timber exports”
- C) “Reserved forests”
- D) “Restrict village use”

APWH-MCQ11-035

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Table: Teak extraction in British Burma, simplified pattern

Period | Reported development

1850s | Forest leases expand along river valleys

1880s | Steam sawmills and river transport increase timber exports

1900s | Officials create reserved forests and restrict village use

Which broader context best explains the creation of reserved forests?

- A) Colonial states often claimed environmental management authority to control resources and local communities.
- B) Colonial governments abandoned all control over natural resources.
- C) Reserved forests were created by medieval merchant guilds.
- D) Village communities gained unrestricted legal control over timber exports.
- A) Colonial states often claimed environmental management authority to control resources and local communities.

- B) Colonial governments abandoned all control over natural resources.
- C) Reserved forests were created by medieval merchant guilds.
- D) Village communities gained unrestricted legal control over timber exports.

APWH-MCQ11-036

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Table: Teak extraction in British Burma, simplified pattern

Period | Reported development

1850s | Forest leases expand along river valleys

1880s | Steam sawmills and river transport increase timber exports

1900s | Officials create reserved forests and restrict village use

Which argument is best supported by the table?

- A) Imperial resource extraction could produce both export growth and new restrictions on local livelihoods.
 - B) Steam technology reduced colonial interest in tropical timber.
 - C) Forest regulation always increased village autonomy.
 - D) Colonial extraction was unrelated to environmental change.
- A) Imperial resource extraction could produce both export growth and new restrictions on local livelihoods.
 - B) Steam technology reduced colonial interest in tropical timber.
 - C) Forest regulation always increased village autonomy.
 - D) Colonial extraction was unrelated to environmental change.

APWH-MCQ11-037

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Peru’s coast c. 1840–1880 marks guano islands, export ports, shipping routes to Europe and North America, and railroad lines financed by guano revenue but concentrated near mining and port zones.” Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

- A) Guano exports connected coastal environments, foreign demand, state revenue, and infrastructure projects.
 - B) Guano trade remained entirely local within Peru.
 - C) Railroads in Peru were unrelated to export revenue.
 - D) Foreign demand for fertilizer disappeared before 1840.
- A) Guano exports connected coastal environments, foreign demand, state revenue, and infrastructure projects.
 - B) Guano trade remained entirely local within Peru.
 - C) Railroads in Peru were unrelated to export revenue.
 - D) Foreign demand for fertilizer disappeared before 1840.

APWH-MCQ11-038

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Peru’s coast c. 1840–1880 marks guano islands, export ports, shipping routes to Europe and North America, and railroad lines financed by guano revenue but concentrated near mining and port zones.” Which feature best supports the claim that a coastal environmental resource became globally valuable?

A) “Railroad lines”

B) “Guano islands”

C) “Mining and port zones”

D) “Peru’s coast”

A) “Railroad lines”

B) “Guano islands”

C) “Mining and port zones”

D) “Peru’s coast”

APWH-MCQ11-039

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Peru’s coast c. 1840–1880 marks guano islands, export ports, shipping routes to Europe and North America, and railroad lines financed by guano revenue but concentrated near mining and port zones.” The pattern shown most directly connects guano exports to which technological or economic development?

A) Demand for fertilizer in expanding commercial agriculture

B) The spread of digital communication networks

C) The decline of all oceanic shipping

D) The use of gunpowder in land-based empires

A) Demand for fertilizer in expanding commercial agriculture

B) The spread of digital communication networks

C) The decline of all oceanic shipping

D) The use of gunpowder in land-based empires

APWH-MCQ11-040

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Peru’s coast c. 1840–1880 marks guano islands, export ports, shipping routes to Europe and North America, and railroad lines financed by guano revenue but concentrated near mining and port zones.” Which argument is best supported by the map?

- A) Export booms could strengthen state revenue while producing uneven regional infrastructure.
 - B) Guano wealth eliminated Peru’s dependence on global markets.
 - C) Railroad construction was evenly distributed across all rural communities.
 - D) Peru’s government avoided using commodity revenue for infrastructure.
- A) Export booms could strengthen state revenue while producing uneven regional infrastructure.
 - B) Guano wealth eliminated Peru’s dependence on global markets.
 - C) Railroad construction was evenly distributed across all rural communities.
 - D) Peru’s government avoided using commodity revenue for infrastructure.

APWH-MCQ11-041

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described fascist youth poster, Italy, 1930s: “Uniformed boys march beneath Roman eagles while a leader’s portrait watches from above. The caption reads, ‘Discipline, Nation, Empire.’ Girls in matching uniforms hold flags near a classroom map of the Mediterranean.” Which interpretation is best supported by the poster?

- A) Fascist regimes used youth organizations, classical symbolism, and education to promote militarized nationalism.
 - B) Fascist movements rejected nationalism and empire.
 - C) The poster criticizes dictatorship from a democratic perspective.
 - D) Italian youth organizations avoided political symbolism.
- A) Fascist regimes used youth organizations, classical symbolism, and education to promote militarized nationalism.
 - B) Fascist movements rejected nationalism and empire.
 - C) The poster criticizes dictatorship from a democratic perspective.
 - D) Italian youth organizations avoided political symbolism.

APWH-MCQ11-042

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described fascist youth poster, Italy, 1930s: “Uniformed boys march beneath Roman eagles while a leader’s portrait watches from above. The caption reads, ‘Discipline, Nation, Empire.’ Girls in matching uniforms hold flags near a classroom map of the Mediterranean.” Which detail best supports the claim that the poster promoted authoritarian political loyalty?

- A) “A classroom map”
 - B) “Roman eagles”
 - C) “A leader’s portrait watches from above”
 - D) “Girls in matching uniforms”
- A) “A classroom map”

- B) “Roman eagles”
- C) “A leader’s portrait watches from above”
- D) “Girls in matching uniforms”

APWH-MCQ11-043

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Described fascist youth poster, Italy, 1930s: “Uniformed boys march beneath Roman eagles while a leader’s portrait watches from above. The caption reads, ‘Discipline, Nation, Empire.’ Girls in matching uniforms hold flags near a classroom map of the Mediterranean.” Which broader context best explains the poster?

- A) Interwar authoritarian movements used mass culture and youth mobilization to build loyalty to the state.
- B) Fascist regimes avoided schools and propaganda.
- C) European states abandoned empire after World War I.
- D) Youth organizations disappeared from politics after 1900.
- A) Interwar authoritarian movements used mass culture and youth mobilization to build loyalty to the state.
- B) Fascist regimes avoided schools and propaganda.
- C) European states abandoned empire after World War I.
- D) Youth organizations disappeared from politics after 1900.

APWH-MCQ11-044

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: International responses to Italy’s invasion of Ethiopia, simplified pattern

Action | Result

League condemns invasion | Moral criticism but limited enforcement

Sanctions exclude key materials such as oil | Limited pressure on Italy

Major powers avoid full military confrontation | Italy continues conquest

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) International institutions struggled to stop aggression when major powers avoided strong enforcement.
- B) The League of Nations quickly defeated Italy militarily.
- C) Sanctions completely ended Italy’s invasion.
- D) Major powers unanimously supported Ethiopian independence with military force.
- A) International institutions struggled to stop aggression when major powers avoided strong enforcement.
- B) The League of Nations quickly defeated Italy militarily.
- C) Sanctions completely ended Italy’s invasion.
- D) Major powers unanimously supported Ethiopian independence with military force.

APWH-MCQ11-045

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Table: International responses to Italy's invasion of Ethiopia, simplified pattern

Action | Result

League condemns invasion | Moral criticism but limited enforcement

Sanctions exclude key materials such as oil | Limited pressure on Italy

Major powers avoid full military confrontation | Italy continues conquest

Which statement best evaluates the pattern shown?

A) Collective security failed when condemnation was not matched by decisive enforcement.

B) International law had no relationship to interwar diplomacy.

C) Sanctions were unnecessary because Italy withdrew immediately.

D) The League's response ended all imperial expansion in Africa.

A) Collective security failed when condemnation was not matched by decisive enforcement.

B) International law had no relationship to interwar diplomacy.

C) Sanctions were unnecessary because Italy withdrew immediately.

D) The League's response ended all imperial expansion in Africa.

APWH-MCQ11-046

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Yugoslav nonalignment speech, c. 1961: "We will not exchange one master for another by joining a military bloc. Small and newly independent states must trade, build, and speak with both sides while keeping the right to choose their own road." What was the most likely purpose of the speech?

A) To reject military blocs and defend independent foreign policy for smaller states

B) To call for direct colonial rule to return

C) To demand that all states join one superpower alliance

D) To deny that newly independent states should trade internationally

A) To reject military blocs and defend independent foreign policy for smaller states

B) To call for direct colonial rule to return

C) To demand that all states join one superpower alliance

D) To deny that newly independent states should trade internationally

APWH-MCQ11-047

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Yugoslav nonalignment speech, c. 1961: “We will not exchange one master for another by joining a military bloc. Small and newly independent states must trade, build, and speak with both sides while keeping the right to choose their own road.” Which phrase best supports the claim that the speaker valued autonomy from superpower control?

- A) “Trade, build, and speak”
 - B) “Joining a military bloc”
 - C) “The right to choose their own road”
 - D) “Newly independent states”
- A) “Trade, build, and speak”
 - B) “Joining a military bloc”
 - C) “The right to choose their own road”
 - D) “Newly independent states”

APWH-MCQ11-048

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Yugoslav nonalignment speech, c. 1961: “We will not exchange one master for another by joining a military bloc. Small and newly independent states must trade, build, and speak with both sides while keeping the right to choose their own road.” Which broader context best explains the speech?

- A) Cold War rivalry created pressure on states to align with superpower blocs, while some leaders promoted nonalignment.
 - B) The Cold War ended before 1950.
 - C) Newly independent states had no role in international diplomacy.
 - D) Military blocs were created only in the nineteenth century.
- A) Cold War rivalry created pressure on states to align with superpower blocs, while some leaders promoted nonalignment.
 - B) The Cold War ended before 1950.
 - C) Newly independent states had no role in international diplomacy.
 - D) Military blocs were created only in the nineteenth century.

APWH-MCQ11-049

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described Prague Spring poster, Czechoslovakia, 1968: “A printing press releases papers reading ‘socialism with a human face.’ A student holds a radio, workers gather in a square, and a tank silhouette appears at the edge of the image.” Which interpretation is best supported by the poster?

- A) Reform movements within communist states could use media, students, and workers to demand political liberalization.
- B) Communist governments in Eastern Europe had no internal reform movements.

- C) The poster supports censorship and military occupation.
- D) Students and workers avoided politics during the Cold War.
- A) Reform movements within communist states could use media, students, and workers to demand political liberalization.
- B) Communist governments in Eastern Europe had no internal reform movements.
- C) The poster supports censorship and military occupation.
- D) Students and workers avoided politics during the Cold War.

APWH-MCQ11-050

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Described Prague Spring poster, Czechoslovakia, 1968: “A printing press releases papers reading ‘socialism with a human face.’ A student holds a radio, workers gather in a square, and a tank silhouette appears at the edge of the image.” The poster most directly reflects which broader Cold War pattern?

- A) The disappearance of Soviet influence in Eastern Europe before 1968
- B) The use of military force and censorship to prevent all political change globally
- C) The tension between reformist socialism and Soviet-bloc control
- D) The end of student activism after World War II
- A) The disappearance of Soviet influence in Eastern Europe before 1968
- B) The use of military force and censorship to prevent all political change globally
- C) The tension between reformist socialism and Soviet-bloc control
- D) The end of student activism after World War II

APWH-MCQ11-051

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Global tourism and heritage sites, simplified pattern

Indicator | c. 1980 | c. 2020

International tourist arrivals | Hundreds of millions | More than one billion

Heritage-site management | Mostly national concern | Increasingly tied to global tourism agencies and local communities

Common concern | Site preservation | Preservation, local livelihoods, crowding, and cultural ownership

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Tourism globalization expanded economic opportunities while creating preservation and local-control debates.
- B) International tourism disappeared after 1980.
- C) Heritage sites became unrelated to local communities.
- D) Global tourism ended concerns about cultural ownership.
- A) Tourism globalization expanded economic opportunities while creating preservation and local-control debates.

- B) International tourism disappeared after 1980.
- C) Heritage sites became unrelated to local communities.
- D) Global tourism ended concerns about cultural ownership.

APWH-MCQ11-052

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Table: Global tourism and heritage sites, simplified pattern

Indicator | c. 1980 | c. 2020

International tourist arrivals | Hundreds of millions | More than one billion

Heritage-site management | Mostly national concern | Increasingly tied to global tourism agencies and local communities

Common concern | Site preservation | Preservation, local livelihoods, crowding, and cultural ownership

Which evidence best supports the claim that heritage became a global cultural issue?

- A) “Mostly national concern”
 - B) “Increasingly tied to global tourism agencies and local communities”
 - C) “Hundreds of millions”
 - D) “Site preservation”
- A) “Mostly national concern”
 - B) “Increasingly tied to global tourism agencies and local communities”
 - C) “Hundreds of millions”
 - D) “Site preservation”

APWH-MCQ11-053

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized statement by a heritage-site resident, c. 2020: “Visitors photograph our rituals, but rent rises faster than wages and shops sell souvenirs where neighbors once bought bread. We welcome guests, yet heritage should not turn a living town into a stage.” What was the most likely purpose of the statement?

- A) To argue that tourism should ignore local residents
 - B) To criticize the social effects of mass tourism while accepting cultural exchange
 - C) To demand that all heritage sites close permanently
 - D) To deny that tourism affects urban economies
- A) To argue that tourism should ignore local residents
 - B) To criticize the social effects of mass tourism while accepting cultural exchange
 - C) To demand that all heritage sites close permanently
 - D) To deny that tourism affects urban economies

APWH-MCQ11-054

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized statement by a heritage-site resident, c. 2020: “Visitors photograph our rituals, but rent rises faster than wages and shops sell souvenirs where neighbors once bought bread. We welcome guests, yet heritage should not turn a living town into a stage.” Which phrase best supports the claim that tourism changed local economic life?

- A) “Visitors photograph”
- B) “Rent rises faster than wages”
- C) “We welcome guests”
- D) “Our rituals”
- A) “Visitors photograph”
- B) “Rent rises faster than wages”
- C) “We welcome guests”
- D) “Our rituals”

APWH-MCQ11-055

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized statement by a heritage-site resident, c. 2020: “Visitors photograph our rituals, but rent rises faster than wages and shops sell souvenirs where neighbors once bought bread. We welcome guests, yet heritage should not turn a living town into a stage.” Which statement best evaluates the resident’s argument?

- A) The resident frames global tourism as culturally valuable but socially disruptive when local control is weakened.
- B) The resident argues that heritage has no economic value.
- C) The resident claims that cultural rituals should be controlled only by foreign tourists.
- D) The resident rejects all forms of cultural exchange.
- A) The resident frames global tourism as culturally valuable but socially disruptive when local control is weakened.
- B) The resident argues that heritage has no economic value.
- C) The resident claims that cultural rituals should be controlled only by foreign tourists.
- D) The resident rejects all forms of cultural exchange.

PART B — ANSWER KEY + EXPLANATIONS

APWH-MCQ11-001 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To present government as a system linking bureaucracy, Buddhist institutions, scholarship, and defense — Explanation: The instruction connects officials, grain records, monasteries, scholars, petitions, commanders, and roads.

APWH-MCQ11-002 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “Monasteries pray for the protection of the realm” — Explanation: This phrase directly shows Buddhist institutions supporting the legitimacy and protection of the state.

APWH-MCQ11-003 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: East Asian states often used bureaucratic records to manage agrarian revenue and local administration. — Explanation: Grain records sent by district officials show bureaucratic control over agrarian resources.

APWH-MCQ11-004 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: A hierarchy involving officials, monks, scholars, commanders, and rural producers — Explanation: The passage presents specialized roles within a layered political and social order.

APWH-MCQ11-005 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Māori communities adapted settlement, food storage, and defense to varied island environments. — Explanation: Fortified pā, storage pits, gardens, fishing zones, and paths show adaptation to local environments.

APWH-MCQ11-006 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To record the rights, religious patronage, taxes, and commercial order of a merchant community — Explanation: The inscription describes a guild warehouse, temple donations, harbor taxes, commodities, and dispute settlement.

APWH-MCQ11-007 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: “Honors the temple with lamps” — Explanation: This phrase directly connects merchant activity to religious patronage.

APWH-MCQ11-008 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Southeast Asian rulers could profit from Indian Ocean trade by taxing ports and protecting merchant communities. — Explanation: The harbor tax reflects local rulers’ ability to collect revenue from overseas commerce.

APWH-MCQ11-009 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Merchant communities could maintain institutions abroad while operating within local political systems. — Explanation: The guild protects its warehouse and settles disputes while paying the ruler’s harbor tax.

APWH-MCQ11-010 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Monsoon knowledge and sailing technology helped coordinate commerce across the Arabian Sea. — Explanation: The map emphasizes seasonal winds, dhow routes, ports, commodities, and timing.

APWH-MCQ11-011 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To coordinate frontier administration through military officials, religious patronage, noble titles, and trade regulation — Explanation: The memorial links banner officers, lamas, Mongol nobles, tribute horses, and caravan taxation.

APWH-MCQ11-012 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Lamas at the frontier monastery shall receive gifts” — Explanation: This phrase shows Qing patronage of Buddhist religious figures on the frontier.

APWH-MCQ11-013 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Qing rulers often incorporated Inner Asian elites into imperial administration. — Explanation: Allowing Mongol nobles to keep titles reflects incorporation of frontier elites.

APWH-MCQ11-014 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Imperial governments could regulate frontier trade while incorporating local elites. — Explanation: The memorial regulates unauthorized caravan taxes while recognizing Mongol nobles and tribute.

APWH-MCQ11-015 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Russian nobles gained status through service, landholding, and control over dependent peasants. — Explanation: The estate register, saber, clerk, peasants, and tax-service record all show service nobility.

APWH-MCQ11-016 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “Peasants plow fields” — Explanation: Peasant agricultural labor in the nobleman’s estate setting supports the claim that elite power rested on dependent peasants.

APWH-MCQ11-017 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Romanov state-building connected elite service, agrarian control, taxation, and military obligation. — Explanation: The portrait combines estate records, cavalry service, peasant labor, household records, and taxation.

APWH-MCQ11-018 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To regulate enslaved labor and social control in a plantation colony — Explanation: The ordinance concerns enslaved people, punishment, masters, food, clothing, judges, and plantation order.

APWH-MCQ11-019 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Colonial judges shall record penalties” — Explanation: This phrase shows coercion being formalized through colonial legal procedures.

APWH-MCQ11-020 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: European colonial powers often used Christianity to justify and regulate social order in slave societies. — Explanation: Baptism and instruction are presented alongside discipline and plantation control.

APWH-MCQ11-021 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: It shows that plantation economies relied on legal systems that combined labor discipline, religious instruction, and master authority. — Explanation: The ordinance combines Christian instruction, punishment, master obligations, judges, and plantation order.

APWH-MCQ11-022 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: North Atlantic fisheries connected maritime labor, food preservation, and transoceanic markets. — Explanation: Ships, fishing grounds, shore drying stations, salted cod, and distant markets all appear on the map.

APWH-MCQ11-023 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Shore stations dry cod” — Explanation: Drying cod was a preservation technique that made long-distance fish trade possible.

APWH-MCQ11-024 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Oceanic expansion created commodity networks involving extraction, preservation, and distant consumption. — Explanation: The map shows fishing, drying, salting, shipping, and consumption across multiple Atlantic and Mediterranean markets.

APWH-MCQ11-025 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: British officials and educated Indian political reformers — Explanation: The petition addresses empire, councils, taxation, examinations, public works, education, and representation.

APWH-MCQ11-026 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Education has prepared loyal subjects to speak as citizens” — Explanation: This phrase directly links education with political participation.

APWH-MCQ11-027 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Educated colonial elites used liberal political language to demand greater participation in imperial governance. — Explanation: The petition uses representation, justice, citizenship, and councils to ask for inclusion.

APWH-MCQ11-028 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: It argues that imperial claims of justice require representative inclusion of Indian voices. — Explanation: The petition challenges the empire to match its claims of justice with Indian participation in councils.

APWH-MCQ11-029 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To encourage consumers and lawmakers to oppose slavery and the slave trade — Explanation: The pamphlet urges households to refuse slave-grown goods and Parliament to act.

APWH-MCQ11-030 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Let households refuse slave-grown goods” — Explanation: This phrase directly shows consumer boycott as a political tool.

APWH-MCQ11-031 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Abolitionism drew on religious morality and Enlightenment ideas about natural rights. — Explanation: The pamphlet invokes Christian conscience and natural rights against slavery.

APWH-MCQ11-032 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Parliament as a target for public pressure and legal change — Explanation: The pamphlet urges Parliament to hear anti-slavery arguments, linking social activism to lawmaking.

APWH-MCQ11-033 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Colonial rule linked resource extraction, industrial technology, and environmental regulation. — Explanation: The table connects forest leases, steam sawmills, timber exports, reserved forests, and restrictions on village use.

APWH-MCQ11-034 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Steam sawmills and river transport increase timber exports” — Explanation: Steam sawmills and river transport show technology intensifying extraction.

APWH-MCQ11-035 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Colonial states often claimed environmental management authority to control resources and local communities. — Explanation: Reserved forests and restrictions on village use reflect colonial control over resources and people.

APWH-MCQ11-036 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Imperial resource extraction could produce both export growth and new restrictions on local livelihoods. — Explanation: The table shows rising timber exports along with reserved forests and limits on village use.

APWH-MCQ11-037 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Guano exports connected coastal environments, foreign demand, state revenue, and infrastructure projects. — Explanation: The map links guano islands, ports, shipping routes, foreign markets, revenue, and railroads.

APWH-MCQ11-038 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Guano islands” — Explanation: Guano islands identify the coastal environmental resource that became valuable in global markets.

APWH-MCQ11-039 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Demand for fertilizer in expanding commercial agriculture — Explanation: Guano became valuable because commercial agriculture required fertilizer.

APWH-MCQ11-040 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Export booms could strengthen state revenue while producing uneven regional infrastructure. — Explanation: Guano revenue financed railroads concentrated around mining and port zones.

APWH-MCQ11-041 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Fascist regimes used youth organizations, classical symbolism, and education to promote militarized nationalism. — Explanation: Uniformed youth, Roman eagles, the leader's portrait, flags, classroom map, and empire slogan support the interpretation.

APWH-MCQ11-042 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: "A leader's portrait watches from above" — Explanation: The leader's elevated image promotes authoritarian loyalty and surveillance.

APWH-MCQ11-043 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Interwar authoritarian movements used mass culture and youth mobilization to build loyalty to the state. — Explanation: Fascist youth imagery, education, discipline, empire, and leader symbolism fit interwar authoritarian propaganda.

APWH-MCQ11-044 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: International institutions struggled to stop aggression when major powers avoided strong enforcement. — Explanation: The table shows condemnation, weak sanctions, avoidance of military confrontation, and continued conquest.

APWH-MCQ11-045 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Collective security failed when condemnation was not matched by decisive enforcement. — Explanation: The League condemned aggression but lacked effective sanctions or military backing.

APWH-MCQ11-046 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To reject military blocs and defend independent foreign policy for smaller states — Explanation: The speech opposes military blocs and defends the right of smaller and newly independent states to choose their own path.

APWH-MCQ11-047 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: "The right to choose their own road" — Explanation: This phrase directly expresses political autonomy from superpower control.

APWH-MCQ11-048 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Cold War rivalry created pressure on states to align with superpower blocs, while some leaders promoted nonalignment. — Explanation: The speech responds to military blocs and argues for independent diplomacy.

APWH-MCQ11-049 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Reform movements within communist states could use media, students, and workers to demand political liberalization. — Explanation: The printing press, student, radio, workers, and reform slogan all support this interpretation.

APWH-MCQ11-050 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The tension between reformist socialism and Soviet-bloc control — Explanation: The reform slogan and tank silhouette show political liberalization confronting Soviet-bloc military pressure.

APWH-MCQ11-051 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Tourism globalization expanded economic opportunities while creating preservation and local-control debates. — Explanation: The table shows rising arrivals, global tourism agencies, local communities, livelihoods, crowding, and cultural ownership concerns.

APWH-MCQ11-052 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: "Increasingly tied to global tourism agencies and local communities" — Explanation: This phrase shows heritage becoming part of global cultural and institutional networks.

APWH-MCQ11-053 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To criticize the social effects of mass tourism while accepting cultural exchange — Explanation: The resident welcomes guests but criticizes rising rents, souvenir shops, and turning a town into a stage.

APWH-MCQ11-054 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Rent rises faster than wages” —
Explanation: This phrase directly shows local economic pressure caused by tourism.

APWH-MCQ11-055 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: The resident frames global tourism as culturally valuable but socially disruptive when local control is weakened. — Explanation: The statement welcomes visitors while criticizing displacement, commercialization, and loss of lived community control.

SECTION 2 — SERIES DO-NOT-REPEAT BANK UPDATE — DO NOT IMPORT

SERIES DO-NOT-REPEAT BANK UPDATE — APWH-MCQ11

- APWH-MCQ11-001–004: Unit 1; c. 1200–1450; Goryeo Korea/East Asia; original royal instruction; district officials, grain records, monasteries, Buddhist prayers, Confucian-trained scholars, petitions, northern roads and commanders; reasoning paths include purpose, Buddhist legitimacy evidence, bureaucratic agrarian context, hierarchy of officials/monks/scholars/military; source type: royal instruction; misconception targeted: treating Korean governance as non-bureaucratic or disconnected from Buddhist and classical traditions.
- APWH-MCQ11-005: Unit 1; c. 1200–1450; Māori Aotearoa New Zealand/Oceania; secondary-source settlement description; fortified pā, ridge sites, kūmara storage pits, carved meeting spaces, coastal fishing zones, inland gardens; reasoning path includes visual/material analysis of environmental adaptation; source type: archaeological/community description; misconception targeted: assuming Oceanic societies lacked agriculture, defense, or organized settlement before Europeans.
- APWH-MCQ11-006–010: Unit 2; c. 1200–1450; Tamil merchant guilds in Southeast Asian Indian Ocean ports plus Arabian Sea map; original merchant-guild inscription and described monsoon map; warehouses, temple lamps, harbor taxes, cloth, pepper, camphor, elders, dhow routes, Gujarat, Hormuz, Aden, East Africa, monsoon timing; reasoning paths include purpose, religious patronage, ruler taxation, merchant institutions abroad, maritime technology and wind knowledge; source/map types: guild inscription and Arabian Sea monsoon route map; misconception targeted: treating Indian Ocean merchants as stateless or ignoring local political taxation and seasonal knowledge.
- APWH-MCQ11-011–014: Unit 3; c. 1450–1750; Qing Inner Asian frontier; original frontier memorial; banner officers, pasture disputes, lamas, monastery gifts, Mongol nobles, tribute horses, caravan taxes; reasoning paths include purpose, Buddhist patronage evidence, incorporation of frontier elites, regulation of caravan trade; source type: frontier administrative memorial; misconception targeted: treating Qing rule as only Han Chinese agrarian administration or ignoring Inner Asian elite incorporation.
- APWH-MCQ11-015–017: Unit 3; c. 1450–1750; Romanov Russia; described service-nobility portrait; estate register, cavalry saber, plowing peasants, wooden church, household clerk, tax and military service records; reasoning paths include visual/material interpretation, dependent peasant evidence, state-building argument linking service nobility, taxation, and military obligation; visual type: service-nobility portrait; misconception targeted: assuming Russian noble status was unrelated to state service or peasant dependence.
- APWH-MCQ11-018–021: Unit 4; c. 1450–1750; French Caribbean plantation colonies; original colonial ordinance; baptism, instruction, runaway punishment, master obligations, food and clothing, colonial judges, penalties, plantation order; reasoning paths include purpose, legal coercion evidence, Christianity and social order context, argument about law/religion/labor discipline; source type: colonial legal ordinance; misconception targeted: treating Atlantic slavery as informal or separate from legal and religious regulation.

· APWH-MCQ11-022–024: Unit 4; c. 1450–1750; North Atlantic Grand Banks fisheries; described maritime commodity map; Basque, Portuguese, English, French ships, fishing grounds, shore stations, dried and salted cod, Iberian/Caribbean/Mediterranean markets; reasoning paths include map interpretation, preservation technology evidence, oceanic commodity-chain process; map type: fishery and salted-cod trade map; misconception targeted: reducing Atlantic commerce only to silver, sugar, or enslaved labor.

· APWH-MCQ11-025–028: Unit 5; c. 1750–1900; Indian National Congress/British India; original political petition; representation, imperial justice, councils, taxation, examinations, public works, education, loyal subjects as citizens; reasoning paths include audience, education-politics evidence, educated colonial elite context, argument about imperial justice and representation; source type: reformist political petition; misconception targeted: treating early Indian nationalism as only violent revolt or unrelated to liberal political language.

· APWH-MCQ11-029–032: Unit 5; c. 1750–1900; British abolitionism/Atlantic world; original abolitionist pamphlet; sugar in tea, chains, household boycott, Parliament, Christian conscience, natural rights, slave trade; reasoning paths include purpose, consumer boycott evidence, religious-Enlightenment ideology context, Parliament as pressure target; source type: abolitionist consumer pamphlet; misconception targeted: separating abolition from consumer activism, religion, and rights language.

· APWH-MCQ11-033–036: Unit 6; c. 1750–1900; British Burma/Southeast Asia; teak extraction table; forest leases, river valleys, steam sawmills, river transport, timber exports, reserved forests, restricted village use; reasoning paths include data interpretation, industrial technology evidence, colonial environmental management context, export growth versus local restriction argument; table type: timber extraction and forest regulation table; misconception targeted: treating colonial conservation as neutral or unrelated to extraction and village livelihoods.

· APWH-MCQ11-037–040: Unit 6; c. 1750–1900; Peru/guano export boom; described coastal resource map; guano islands, export ports, shipping routes to Europe and North America, railroad lines financed by guano revenue near mining and port zones; reasoning paths include map interpretation, coastal resource evidence, fertilizer demand context, uneven infrastructure argument; map type: guano-resource and infrastructure map; misconception targeted: assuming Latin American export booms were local-only or evenly developmental.

· APWH-MCQ11-041–043: Unit 7; c. 1900–present; Fascist Italy/interwar Europe; described youth propaganda poster; uniformed boys and girls, Roman eagles, leader portrait, discipline/nation/empire caption, classroom Mediterranean map; reasoning paths include visual propaganda interpretation, authoritarian loyalty evidence, youth mobilization context; visual type: fascist youth poster; misconception targeted: treating fascism as only military policy without mass culture and education.

· APWH-MCQ11-044–045: Unit 7; c. 1900–present; League of Nations and Italian invasion of Ethiopia; international response table; condemnation, limited enforcement, sanctions excluding oil, major powers avoiding confrontation, conquest continues; reasoning paths include data interpretation and collective-security argument; table type: interwar institutional response table; misconception targeted: assuming international condemnation alone stopped aggression.

· APWH-MCQ11-046–048: Unit 8; c. 1900–present; Yugoslavia and nonalignment; original nonalignment speech; rejection of military blocs, small and newly independent states, trade and diplomacy with both sides, right to choose own road; reasoning paths include purpose, autonomy evidence, Cold War bloc pressure context; source type: nonaligned-state speech; misconception targeted: assuming all Cold War states simply joined one superpower bloc.

· APWH-MCQ11-049–050: Unit 8; c. 1900–present; Prague Spring/Czechoslovakia; described reform poster; printing press, “socialism with a human face,” student with radio, workers in square, tank silhouette; reasoning paths include visual interpretation and reformist socialism versus Soviet-bloc control; visual type: Cold War reform poster; misconception targeted: treating communist-bloc societies as politically static or without internal reform movements.

· APWH-MCQ11-051–055: Unit 9; c. 1900–present; global tourism and heritage sites; tourism/heritage table plus resident statement; international tourist arrivals, global tourism agencies, local communities, preservation, livelihoods, crowding, cultural ownership, rising rents, souvenir shops, rituals photographed; reasoning paths include data interpretation, global heritage evidence, purpose, local economic pressure evidence, argument about cultural value and social disruption; table/source type: global tourism data and heritage resident statement; misconception targeted: treating cultural globalization as purely beneficial or disconnected from local displacement and control.