

SECTION 1 — IMPORT-READY SOURCE FILE

AP World History: Modern MCQ Practice Exam 12

PART A — QUESTIONS

APWH-MCQ12-001

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Secondary-source interpretation of Cahokia, North America, c. 1200: “Large earthen mounds, plazas, wooden palisades, and nearby maize fields suggest a central place where leaders organized ceremonies, storage, defense, and regional gatherings.” What is the best interpretation of Cahokia supported by the description?

- A) Cahokia was an urban ceremonial and political center supported by agriculture.
 - B) Cahokia was founded by European missionaries.
 - C) Cahokia lacked social organization before 1450.
 - D) Cahokia depended on Atlantic trade for maize.
- A) Cahokia was an urban ceremonial and political center supported by agriculture.
 - B) Cahokia was founded by European missionaries.
 - C) Cahokia lacked social organization before 1450.
 - D) Cahokia depended on Atlantic trade for maize.

APWH-MCQ12-002

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Secondary-source interpretation of Cahokia, North America, c. 1200: “Large earthen mounds, plazas, wooden palisades, and nearby maize fields suggest a central place where leaders organized ceremonies, storage, defense, and regional gatherings.” Which phrase best supports the claim that agriculture helped sustain Cahokia?

- A) “Wooden palisades”
 - B) “Nearby maize fields”
 - C) “Regional gatherings”
 - D) “Large earthen mounds”
- A) “Wooden palisades”
 - B) “Nearby maize fields”
 - C) “Regional gatherings”
 - D) “Large earthen mounds”

APWH-MCQ12-003

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Secondary-source interpretation of Cahokia, North America, c. 1200: “Large earthen mounds, plazas, wooden palisades, and nearby maize fields suggest a central place where leaders organized ceremonies, storage, defense, and regional gatherings.” Which material feature most directly indicates ceremonial or public political activity?

- A) Maize fields
- B) Wooden palisades
- C) Plazas
- D) Nearby villages
- A) Maize fields
- B) Wooden palisades
- C) Plazas
- D) Nearby villages

APWH-MCQ12-004

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Secondary-source interpretation of Cahokia, North America, c. 1200: “Large earthen mounds, plazas, wooden palisades, and nearby maize fields suggest a central place where leaders organized ceremonies, storage, defense, and regional gatherings.” The description most directly challenges which misconception?

- A) That pre-1450 North American societies could develop complex centers without European rule
- B) That agriculture could support population concentration and political authority
- C) That public architecture could reflect social hierarchy
- D) That North American societies before 1450 were necessarily small, scattered, and politically simple
- A) That pre-1450 North American societies could develop complex centers without European rule
- B) That agriculture could support population concentration and political authority
- C) That public architecture could reflect social hierarchy
- D) That North American societies before 1450 were necessarily small, scattered, and politically simple

APWH-MCQ12-005

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 1 — The Global Tapestry

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Secondary-source interpretation of Cahokia, North America, c. 1200: “Large earthen mounds, plazas, wooden palisades, and nearby maize fields suggest a central place where leaders organized ceremonies, storage, defense, and regional gatherings.” Which broader context best explains the development of such a center?

- A) The decline of all agriculture in the Americas after 1200
- B) The arrival of European horses in North America before 1200
- C) The spread of maize agriculture and regional exchange in parts of North America
- D) The creation of industrial factory towns in the Mississippi Valley
- A) The decline of all agriculture in the Americas after 1200
- B) The arrival of European horses in North America before 1200
- C) The spread of maize agriculture and regional exchange in parts of North America
- D) The creation of industrial factory towns in the Mississippi Valley

APWH-MCQ12-006

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Mamluk commercial court record, Cairo, c. 1340: “A merchant from Aden deposits pepper and indigo with a broker near the caravanserai. A judge records the partnership shares, and port agents report that ships from the Red Sea have arrived with Indian cloth.” What was the most likely purpose of the record?

- A) To describe commercial partnerships and legal oversight in a major Afro-Eurasian trade hub
- B) To abolish all Red Sea commerce
- C) To prove that Cairo was isolated from Indian Ocean trade
- D) To replace merchant partnerships with industrial banks
- A) To describe commercial partnerships and legal oversight in a major Afro-Eurasian trade hub
- B) To abolish all Red Sea commerce
- C) To prove that Cairo was isolated from Indian Ocean trade
- D) To replace merchant partnerships with industrial banks

APWH-MCQ12-007

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Mamluk commercial court record, Cairo, c. 1340: “A merchant from Aden deposits pepper and indigo with a broker near the caravanserai. A judge records the partnership shares, and port agents report that ships from the Red Sea have arrived with Indian cloth.” Which phrase best supports the claim that legal institutions helped regulate trade?

- A) “Indian cloth”
- B) “A merchant from Aden”
- C) “A judge records the partnership shares”
- D) “Ships from the Red Sea”
- A) “Indian cloth”
- B) “A merchant from Aden”

- C) “A judge records the partnership shares”
- D) “Ships from the Red Sea”

APWH-MCQ12-008

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Mamluk commercial court record, Cairo, c. 1340: “A merchant from Aden deposits pepper and indigo with a broker near the caravanserai. A judge records the partnership shares, and port agents report that ships from the Red Sea have arrived with Indian cloth.” Which broader context best explains the goods and places mentioned?

- A) Cairo linked Mediterranean, Red Sea, and Indian Ocean commercial circuits.
- B) Red Sea trade ended after the rise of the Mamluks.
- C) Indian cloth reached Cairo only after steamships appeared.
- D) Aden was disconnected from Afro-Eurasian commerce.
- A) Cairo linked Mediterranean, Red Sea, and Indian Ocean commercial circuits.
- B) Red Sea trade ended after the rise of the Mamluks.
- C) Indian cloth reached Cairo only after steamships appeared.
- D) Aden was disconnected from Afro-Eurasian commerce.

APWH-MCQ12-009

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized Mamluk commercial court record, Cairo, c. 1340: “A merchant from Aden deposits pepper and indigo with a broker near the caravanserai. A judge records the partnership shares, and port agents report that ships from the Red Sea have arrived with Indian cloth.” The record most directly illustrates which feature of long-distance trade?

- A) Merchants avoided brokers and legal records.
- B) Trade networks depended only on direct barter between producers.
- C) Commercial exchange could rely on brokers, courts, ports, and credit arrangements.
- D) Religious courts prevented all foreign merchants from trading.
- A) Merchants avoided brokers and legal records.
- B) Trade networks depended only on direct barter between producers.
- C) Commercial exchange could rely on brokers, courts, ports, and credit arrangements.
- D) Religious courts prevented all foreign merchants from trading.

APWH-MCQ12-010

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 2 — Networks of Exchange

Period: c. 1200–1450

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Mamluk trade routes c. 1340 shows caravans from Cairo to Damascus, ships from Aden to Jeddah, and routes from Alexandria to Mediterranean ports. Labels identify pepper, indigo, Indian cloth, glassware, and metal goods.” Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

A) Mamluk Egypt connected overland, Red Sea, and Mediterranean routes into a wider trading system.

B) Cairo’s merchants traded only within Egypt.

C) Indian Ocean goods never entered Mediterranean markets.

D) Mediterranean routes replaced all caravan routes before 1200.

A) Mamluk Egypt connected overland, Red Sea, and Mediterranean routes into a wider trading system.

B) Cairo’s merchants traded only within Egypt.

C) Indian Ocean goods never entered Mediterranean markets.

D) Mediterranean routes replaced all caravan routes before 1200.

APWH-MCQ12-011

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Kanem-Bornu royal letter, Lake Chad region, c. 1570: “The mai commands that cavalry horses be counted and that scholars in the capital teach the law. Salt from the desert and grain from the villages shall be recorded, and raiders who disturb the caravan roads shall be punished.” What was the most likely purpose of the letter?

A) To coordinate military power, Islamic learning, taxation, and protection of trade routes

B) To abolish caravan trade in the Lake Chad region

C) To reject the use of cavalry in state defense

D) To replace Islamic scholars with European colonial officers

A) To coordinate military power, Islamic learning, taxation, and protection of trade routes

B) To abolish caravan trade in the Lake Chad region

C) To reject the use of cavalry in state defense

D) To replace Islamic scholars with European colonial officers

APWH-MCQ12-012

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Kanem-Bornu royal letter, Lake Chad region, c. 1570: “The mai commands that cavalry horses be counted and that scholars in the capital teach the law. Salt from the desert and grain from the villages shall be recorded, and raiders who disturb the caravan roads shall be punished.” Which phrase best supports the claim that Islamic institutions contributed to state authority?

- A) “Salt from the desert”
- B) “Scholars in the capital teach the law”
- C) “Cavalry horses”
- D) “Grain from the villages”
- A) “Salt from the desert”
- B) “Scholars in the capital teach the law”
- C) “Cavalry horses”
- D) “Grain from the villages”

APWH-MCQ12-013

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Kanem-Bornu royal letter, Lake Chad region, c. 1570: “The mai commands that cavalry horses be counted and that scholars in the capital teach the law. Salt from the desert and grain from the villages shall be recorded, and raiders who disturb the caravan roads shall be punished.” Which broader environmental context best explains the mention of salt and grain?

- A) The state connected Saharan and Sahelian ecological zones through trade and taxation.
- B) Lake Chad states depended only on Atlantic plantation crops.
- C) Desert salt and village grain had no role in regional exchange.
- D) Grain agriculture disappeared from the Sahel after 1450.
- A) The state connected Saharan and Sahelian ecological zones through trade and taxation.
- B) Lake Chad states depended only on Atlantic plantation crops.
- C) Desert salt and village grain had no role in regional exchange.
- D) Grain agriculture disappeared from the Sahel after 1450.

APWH-MCQ12-014

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized Kanem-Bornu royal letter, Lake Chad region, c. 1570: “The mai commands that cavalry horses be counted and that scholars in the capital teach the law. Salt from the desert and grain from the villages shall be recorded, and raiders who disturb the caravan roads shall be punished.” Which argument is best supported by the letter?

- A) Kanem-Bornu state power linked military organization, religious authority, and control of regional exchange.
- B) The mai rejected taxation as a source of authority.
- C) Caravan roads weakened all state-building in the Sahel.
- D) Islamic learning was unrelated to political authority in the Lake Chad region.
- A) Kanem-Bornu state power linked military organization, religious authority, and control of regional exchange.
- B) The mai rejected taxation as a source of authority.

- C) Caravan roads weakened all state-building in the Sahel.
- D) Islamic learning was unrelated to political authority in the Lake Chad region.

APWH-MCQ12-015

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of the Lê dynasty in Đại Việt, c. 1500–1600, shows provincial schools, Confucian examination sites, military colonies along the southern frontier, and rice-growing districts connected to the capital by river routes.” Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

- A) Đại Việt used education, frontier settlement, military organization, and agrarian administration to strengthen state authority.
 - B) Đại Việt rejected Confucian education after 1450.
 - C) The southern frontier had no connection to state expansion.
 - D) Rice-growing districts were unrelated to political authority.
- A) Đại Việt used education, frontier settlement, military organization, and agrarian administration to strengthen state authority.
 - B) Đại Việt rejected Confucian education after 1450.
 - C) The southern frontier had no connection to state expansion.
 - D) Rice-growing districts were unrelated to political authority.

APWH-MCQ12-016

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of the Lê dynasty in Đại Việt, c. 1500–1600, shows provincial schools, Confucian examination sites, military colonies along the southern frontier, and rice-growing districts connected to the capital by river routes.” Which map feature best supports the claim that Confucian learning shaped governance?

- A) “River routes”
 - B) “Military colonies”
 - C) “Provincial schools”
 - D) “Rice-growing districts”
- A) “River routes”
 - B) “Military colonies”
 - C) “Provincial schools”
 - D) “Rice-growing districts”

APWH-MCQ12-017

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 3 — Land-Based Empires

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of the Lê dynasty in Đại Việt, c. 1500–1600, shows provincial schools, Confucian examination sites, military colonies along the southern frontier, and rice-growing districts connected to the capital by river routes.” The pattern shown most directly reflects which broader process?

A) The combination of bureaucratic education and frontier expansion in Southeast Asian state-building

B) The replacement of all agriculture by nomadic pastoralism

C) The collapse of state authority in mainland Southeast Asia

D) The spread of Atlantic plantation slavery into Vietnam

A) The combination of bureaucratic education and frontier expansion in Southeast Asian state-building

B) The replacement of all agriculture by nomadic pastoralism

C) The collapse of state authority in mainland Southeast Asia

D) The spread of Atlantic plantation slavery into Vietnam

APWH-MCQ12-018

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Pueblo testimony, New Mexico, c. 1680: “The friars burned our sacred things and ordered us to labor for their churches. Messengers carried knotted cords between villages so that we would rise together and drive out those who mocked our ancestors.” What was the most likely purpose of the testimony?

A) To defend Spanish missionary authority

B) To explain coordinated resistance to religious suppression and forced labor

C) To encourage Pueblo communities to abandon their traditions voluntarily

D) To praise colonial labor demands as just

A) To defend Spanish missionary authority

B) To explain coordinated resistance to religious suppression and forced labor

C) To encourage Pueblo communities to abandon their traditions voluntarily

D) To praise colonial labor demands as just

APWH-MCQ12-019

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Pueblo testimony, New Mexico, c. 1680: “The friars burned our sacred things and ordered us to labor for their churches. Messengers carried knotted cords between villages so that we would rise together and drive out those who mocked our ancestors.” Which phrase best supports the claim that colonial rule attacked Indigenous religious life?

- A) “Ordered us to labor”
- B) “Between villages”
- C) “Burned our sacred things”
- D) “Knotted cords”
- A) “Ordered us to labor”
- B) “Between villages”
- C) “Burned our sacred things”
- D) “Knotted cords”

APWH-MCQ12-020

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Pueblo testimony, New Mexico, c. 1680: “The friars burned our sacred things and ordered us to labor for their churches. Messengers carried knotted cords between villages so that we would rise together and drive out those who mocked our ancestors.” Which broader context best explains the uprising described?

- A) Indigenous communities in Spanish borderlands resisted missionary control, labor demands, and cultural suppression.
- B) Spanish colonial officials avoided missionary activity in North America.
- C) Pueblo communities lacked inter-village communication.
- D) The revolt occurred after the Cold War.
- A) Indigenous communities in Spanish borderlands resisted missionary control, labor demands, and cultural suppression.
- B) Spanish colonial officials avoided missionary activity in North America.
- C) Pueblo communities lacked inter-village communication.
- D) The revolt occurred after the Cold War.

APWH-MCQ12-021

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized Pueblo testimony, New Mexico, c. 1680: “The friars burned our sacred things and ordered us to labor for their churches. Messengers carried knotted cords between villages so that we would rise together and drive out those who mocked our ancestors.” Which statement best evaluates the testimony’s argument?

- A) It shows that Indigenous resistance could use local communication systems to coordinate action across communities.
- B) It proves that religious suppression never caused resistance.
- C) It claims that Spanish missionaries had no political authority.
- D) It argues that Pueblo communities accepted all colonial demands.
- A) It shows that Indigenous resistance could use local communication systems to coordinate action across communities.

- B) It proves that religious suppression never caused resistance.
- C) It claims that Spanish missionaries had no political authority.
- D) It argues that Pueblo communities accepted all colonial demands.

APWH-MCQ12-022

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Coffee’s transoceanic spread, simplified pattern

Region | Approximate development

Yemen, c. 1500s | Coffee cultivation and export through Mocha

Ottoman cities, c. 1500s–1600s | Coffeehouses spread as urban social spaces

Caribbean and Latin America, c. 1700s | Plantation coffee production expands under European empires

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Coffee moved from regional cultivation into wider imperial and consumer networks.
- B) Coffee cultivation began in the Caribbean before appearing in the Middle East.
- C) Coffeehouses ended urban sociability in Ottoman cities.
- D) European empires avoided plantation coffee production.
- A) Coffee moved from regional cultivation into wider imperial and consumer networks.
- B) Coffee cultivation began in the Caribbean before appearing in the Middle East.
- C) Coffeehouses ended urban sociability in Ottoman cities.
- D) European empires avoided plantation coffee production.

APWH-MCQ12-023

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Table: Coffee’s transoceanic spread, simplified pattern

Region | Approximate development

Yemen, c. 1500s | Coffee cultivation and export through Mocha

Ottoman cities, c. 1500s–1600s | Coffeehouses spread as urban social spaces

Caribbean and Latin America, c. 1700s | Plantation coffee production expands under European empires

Which evidence best supports the claim that coffee shaped urban culture?

- A) “Export through Mocha”
- B) “Coffeehouses spread as urban social spaces”
- C) “Plantation coffee production”
- D) “European empires”
- A) “Export through Mocha”
- B) “Coffeehouses spread as urban social spaces”
- C) “Plantation coffee production”
- D) “European empires”

APWH-MCQ12-024

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 4 — Transoceanic Interconnections

Period: c. 1450–1750

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described coffeehouse scene, Istanbul, c. 1600: “Men sit on low benches drinking coffee, listening to a storyteller, and reading news sheets. A merchant points to sacks labeled ‘Mocha,’ while a religious official watches the gathering with concern.” Which interpretation is best supported by the scene?

A) Coffee consumption created new social spaces that linked commerce, news, entertainment, and moral debate.

B) Coffeehouses were isolated from trade networks.

C) Ottoman cities rejected all imported commodities.

D) Coffee drinking eliminated public discussion.

A) Coffee consumption created new social spaces that linked commerce, news, entertainment, and moral debate.

B) Coffeehouses were isolated from trade networks.

C) Ottoman cities rejected all imported commodities.

D) Coffee drinking eliminated public discussion.

APWH-MCQ12-025

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Donghak proclamation, Korea, 1894: “Officials sell justice, foreign goods enter while peasants lose land, and the people bow beneath taxes. The Eastern Learning teaches that all persons carry Heaven within them; therefore corrupt rule must be corrected.” What was the most likely purpose of the proclamation?

A) To defend corrupt local officials

B) To mobilize peasant protest using religious and social reform language

C) To promote European colonial rule in Korea

D) To argue that taxation had no political importance

A) To defend corrupt local officials

B) To mobilize peasant protest using religious and social reform language

C) To promote European colonial rule in Korea

D) To argue that taxation had no political importance

APWH-MCQ12-026

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Donghak proclamation, Korea, 1894: “Officials sell justice, foreign goods enter while peasants lose land, and the people bow beneath taxes. The Eastern Learning teaches that all persons carry Heaven within them; therefore corrupt rule must be corrected.” Which phrase best supports the claim that the movement challenged social inequality?

- A) “Foreign goods enter”
 - B) “All persons carry Heaven within them”
 - C) “Officials sell justice”
 - D) “Eastern Learning”
- A) “Foreign goods enter”
 - B) “All persons carry Heaven within them”
 - C) “Officials sell justice”
 - D) “Eastern Learning”

APWH-MCQ12-027

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Donghak proclamation, Korea, 1894: “Officials sell justice, foreign goods enter while peasants lose land, and the people bow beneath taxes. The Eastern Learning teaches that all persons carry Heaven within them; therefore corrupt rule must be corrected.” Which broader context best explains the grievances in the proclamation?

- A) Peasant unrest in late nineteenth-century Korea was shaped by corruption, taxation, social tension, and foreign pressure.
 - B) Korea had no contact with foreign goods before 1900.
 - C) Donghak rejected all criticism of government officials.
 - D) Korean peasants had full political equality under industrial capitalism.
- A) Peasant unrest in late nineteenth-century Korea was shaped by corruption, taxation, social tension, and foreign pressure.
 - B) Korea had no contact with foreign goods before 1900.
 - C) Donghak rejected all criticism of government officials.
 - D) Korean peasants had full political equality under industrial capitalism.

APWH-MCQ12-028

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized Donghak proclamation, Korea, 1894: “Officials sell justice, foreign goods enter while peasants lose land, and the people bow beneath taxes. The Eastern Learning teaches that all persons carry Heaven within them; therefore corrupt rule must be corrected.” Which statement best evaluates the proclamation’s argument?

- A) It uses religious equality to justify criticism of corrupt government and social injustice.
- B) It separates religious language from social protest entirely.

- C) It claims that foreign pressure improved peasant life.
- D) It defends taxation as proof of fair government.
- A) It uses religious equality to justify criticism of corrupt government and social injustice.
- B) It separates religious language from social protest entirely.
- C) It claims that foreign pressure improved peasant life.
- D) It defends taxation as proof of fair government.

APWH-MCQ12-029

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Meiji reform statement, Japan, c. 1870s: “The country must learn from the world without losing the throne. Let conscripts serve the nation, schools teach useful knowledge, and officials survey land so taxes may be paid in money rather than old village obligations.” What was the most likely purpose of the statement?

- A) To promote selective modernization under imperial authority
- B) To abolish schooling and conscription in Japan
- C) To restore Tokugawa isolation without reform
- D) To make Japan a formal colony of European states
- A) To promote selective modernization under imperial authority
- B) To abolish schooling and conscription in Japan
- C) To restore Tokugawa isolation without reform
- D) To make Japan a formal colony of European states

APWH-MCQ12-030

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Meiji reform statement, Japan, c. 1870s: “The country must learn from the world without losing the throne. Let conscripts serve the nation, schools teach useful knowledge, and officials survey land so taxes may be paid in money rather than old village obligations.” Which phrase best supports the claim that the reformers valued practical education?

- A) “Losing the throne”
- B) “Schools teach useful knowledge”
- C) “Old village obligations”
- D) “Conscripts serve”
- A) “Losing the throne”
- B) “Schools teach useful knowledge”
- C) “Old village obligations”
- D) “Conscripts serve”

APWH-MCQ12-031

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Making Connections / Historical Reasoning

Prompt:

Originalized Meiji reform statement, Japan, c. 1870s: “The country must learn from the world without losing the throne. Let conscripts serve the nation, schools teach useful knowledge, and officials survey land so taxes may be paid in money rather than old village obligations.” The reference to land surveys and money taxes most directly reflects which development?

- A) The strengthening of centralized fiscal systems to support modernization
 - B) The end of state involvement in revenue collection
 - C) The replacement of money taxes by tribute in kind
 - D) The abandonment of national armies
- A) The strengthening of centralized fiscal systems to support modernization
 - B) The end of state involvement in revenue collection
 - C) The replacement of money taxes by tribute in kind
 - D) The abandonment of national armies

APWH-MCQ12-032

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 5 — Revolutions

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized Meiji reform statement, Japan, c. 1870s: “The country must learn from the world without losing the throne. Let conscripts serve the nation, schools teach useful knowledge, and officials survey land so taxes may be paid in money rather than old village obligations.” Which statement best evaluates the reform program described?

- A) It rejected foreign knowledge because it threatened imperial authority.
 - B) It combined state centralization, mass education, military service, and fiscal reform.
 - C) It preserved all village obligations without change.
 - D) It separated modernization from government power.
- A) It rejected foreign knowledge because it threatened imperial authority.
 - B) It combined state centralization, mass education, military service, and fiscal reform.
 - C) It preserved all village obligations without change.
 - D) It separated modernization from government power.

APWH-MCQ12-033

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Samoa, c. 1880–1900, shows copra-producing coastal districts, German trading firms, United States and British naval stations, and treaty ports where chiefs negotiated under foreign pressure.” Which conclusion is best supported by the map?

- A) Pacific island economies and politics could become entangled with imperial commercial and naval rivalry.
- B) Samoa was isolated from global commerce after 1880.
- C) Copra production eliminated foreign interest in Pacific islands.
- D) Naval stations had no relationship to imperial competition.
- A) Pacific island economies and politics could become entangled with imperial commercial and naval rivalry.
- B) Samoa was isolated from global commerce after 1880.
- C) Copra production eliminated foreign interest in Pacific islands.
- D) Naval stations had no relationship to imperial competition.

APWH-MCQ12-034

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Samoa, c. 1880–1900, shows copra-producing coastal districts, German trading firms, United States and British naval stations, and treaty ports where chiefs negotiated under foreign pressure.” Which feature best supports the claim that local rulers retained some agency despite imperial pressure?

- A) “Copra-producing coastal districts”
- B) “Chiefs negotiated under foreign pressure”
- C) “German trading firms”
- D) “Naval stations”
- A) “Copra-producing coastal districts”
- B) “Chiefs negotiated under foreign pressure”
- C) “German trading firms”
- D) “Naval stations”

APWH-MCQ12-035

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Samoa, c. 1880–1900, shows copra-producing coastal districts, German trading firms, United States and British naval stations, and treaty ports where chiefs negotiated under foreign pressure.” Which broader context best explains the importance of naval stations?

- A) Industrial-era empires sought coaling, repair, and strategic stations to support steam-powered naval reach.
- B) Naval stations were unnecessary after steamships appeared.
- C) Pacific islands had no strategic importance before air travel.
- D) Naval power declined completely in the nineteenth century.
- A) Industrial-era empires sought coaling, repair, and strategic stations to support steam-powered naval reach.
- B) Naval stations were unnecessary after steamships appeared.

- C) Pacific islands had no strategic importance before air travel.
- D) Naval power declined completely in the nineteenth century.

APWH-MCQ12-036

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Described map: “A map of Samoa, c. 1880–1900, shows copra-producing coastal districts, German trading firms, United States and British naval stations, and treaty ports where chiefs negotiated under foreign pressure.” Which argument is best supported by the map?

- A) Imperialism in Oceania could combine commodity exports, naval strategy, and diplomatic pressure on local leaders.
 - B) Pacific island chiefs had no role in treaty politics.
 - C) Industrial-era imperialism avoided maritime strategy.
 - D) Copra production was unrelated to global markets.
- A) Imperialism in Oceania could combine commodity exports, naval strategy, and diplomatic pressure on local leaders.
 - B) Pacific island chiefs had no role in treaty politics.
 - C) Industrial-era imperialism avoided maritime strategy.
 - D) Copra production was unrelated to global markets.

APWH-MCQ12-037

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, c. 1895: “A lecturer labeled ‘Science’ measures skulls while a businessman labeled ‘Empire’ points toward a map of Africa. A caption reads, ‘Nature has chosen the rulers.’” Which interpretation is best supported by the cartoon?

- A) Social Darwinist ideas were used to give pseudo-scientific justification to imperial hierarchy.
 - B) European imperialists rejected racial theories.
 - C) The cartoon supports anti-imperial equality without irony.
 - D) Scientific racism had no relationship to empire.
- A) Social Darwinist ideas were used to give pseudo-scientific justification to imperial hierarchy.
 - B) European imperialists rejected racial theories.
 - C) The cartoon supports anti-imperial equality without irony.
 - D) Scientific racism had no relationship to empire.

APWH-MCQ12-038

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, c. 1895: “A lecturer labeled ‘Science’ measures skulls while a businessman labeled ‘Empire’ points toward a map of Africa. A caption reads, ‘Nature has chosen the rulers.’” Which detail best supports the claim that the cartoon criticizes racialized science?

- A) “Businessman”
- B) “A map of Africa”
- C) “Measures skulls”
- D) “Lecturer”
- A) “Businessman”
- B) “A map of Africa”
- C) “Measures skulls”
- D) “Lecturer”

APWH-MCQ12-039

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, c. 1895: “A lecturer labeled ‘Science’ measures skulls while a businessman labeled ‘Empire’ points toward a map of Africa. A caption reads, ‘Nature has chosen the rulers.’” Which broader context best explains the cartoon?

- A) Nineteenth-century imperialism was often justified through racial theories and claims of scientific superiority.
- B) European empires abandoned racial ideology after 1800.
- C) Social Darwinism was limited to medieval religious debates.
- D) African colonization occurred without ideological justification.
- A) Nineteenth-century imperialism was often justified through racial theories and claims of scientific superiority.
- B) European empires abandoned racial ideology after 1800.
- C) Social Darwinism was limited to medieval religious debates.
- D) African colonization occurred without ideological justification.

APWH-MCQ12-040

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 6 — Consequences of Industrialization

Period: c. 1750–1900

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Described political cartoon, Europe, c. 1895: “A lecturer labeled ‘Science’ measures skulls while a businessman labeled ‘Empire’ points toward a map of Africa. A caption reads, ‘Nature has chosen the rulers.’” Which statement best evaluates the cartoon’s argument?

- A) It shows how economic and imperial interests could cloak inequality in the language of science.
- B) It proves that imperial rule was based only on humanitarian motives.
- C) It argues that racial hierarchy was rejected by all imperial states.
- D) It separates business interests from imperial expansion entirely.

- A) It shows how economic and imperial interests could cloak inequality in the language of science.
- B) It proves that imperial rule was based only on humanitarian motives.
- C) It argues that racial hierarchy was rejected by all imperial states.
- D) It separates business interests from imperial expansion entirely.

APWH-MCQ12-041

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Soviet collectivization, simplified pattern

Policy or result | Reported effect, c. 1929–1933

Forced consolidation of farms | Peasant resistance and livestock slaughter

State grain procurement targets | Food shortages in several regions

Restrictions on movement | Famine conditions intensified

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) State-directed collectivization could produce coercion, resistance, and severe human consequences.
- B) Collectivization was entirely voluntary.
- C) Grain procurement targets ended food shortages.
- D) Soviet agricultural policy had no effect on rural communities.
- A) State-directed collectivization could produce coercion, resistance, and severe human consequences.
- B) Collectivization was entirely voluntary.
- C) Grain procurement targets ended food shortages.
- D) Soviet agricultural policy had no effect on rural communities.

APWH-MCQ12-042

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Table: Soviet collectivization, simplified pattern

Policy or result | Reported effect, c. 1929–1933

Forced consolidation of farms | Peasant resistance and livestock slaughter

State grain procurement targets | Food shortages in several regions

Restrictions on movement | Famine conditions intensified

Which evidence best supports the claim that state power constrained rural populations?

- A) “Food shortages”
- B) “Peasant resistance”
- C) “Restrictions on movement”
- D) “Livestock slaughter”
- A) “Food shortages”
- B) “Peasant resistance”

- C) “Restrictions on movement”
- D) “Livestock slaughter”

APWH-MCQ12-043

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Table: Soviet collectivization, simplified pattern

Policy or result | Reported effect, c. 1929–1933

Forced consolidation of farms | Peasant resistance and livestock slaughter

State grain procurement targets | Food shortages in several regions

Restrictions on movement | Famine conditions intensified

Which statement best evaluates the pattern shown?

- A) It demonstrates how totalitarian economic planning could transform rural society through coercion.
 - B) It shows that peasants fully controlled Soviet policy.
 - C) It proves that collectivization reduced state authority.
 - D) It argues that rural resistance ended before collectivization began.
- A) It demonstrates how totalitarian economic planning could transform rural society through coercion.
 - B) It shows that peasants fully controlled Soviet policy.
 - C) It proves that collectivization reduced state authority.
 - D) It argues that rural resistance ended before collectivization began.

APWH-MCQ12-044

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Nuclear weapons and civilian destruction, simplified World War II pattern

Location | Reported effect, 1945

Hiroshima | Massive blast and fire damage; long-term radiation sickness

Nagasaki | Major destruction in industrial and residential districts

Postwar debates | Questions about strategic bombing, civilian casualties, and new weapons

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) World War II introduced weapons whose destructive effects reshaped debates about war and civilians.
 - B) Nuclear weapons affected only military bases without civilian consequences.
 - C) Radiation sickness was unrelated to atomic bombing.
 - D) Strategic bombing disappeared before 1945.
- A) World War II introduced weapons whose destructive effects reshaped debates about war and civilians.
 - B) Nuclear weapons affected only military bases without civilian consequences.

- C) Radiation sickness was unrelated to atomic bombing.
- D) Strategic bombing disappeared before 1945.

APWH-MCQ12-045

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 7 — Global Conflict

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Visual / Material Culture Analysis

Prompt:

Described photograph, Japan, 1945: “A burned cityscape shows twisted streetcar rails, a collapsed school building, and a signboard listing missing family members. A medical worker stands beside people with bandaged arms and faces.” Which interpretation is best supported by the photograph?

- A) Modern total war blurred distinctions between battlefield and civilian space.
 - B) Civilian cities were unaffected by World War II technologies.
 - C) The photograph shows only military targets.
 - D) Urban destruction had no relationship to wartime policy.
- A) Modern total war blurred distinctions between battlefield and civilian space.
 - B) Civilian cities were unaffected by World War II technologies.
 - C) The photograph shows only military targets.
 - D) Urban destruction had no relationship to wartime policy.

APWH-MCQ12-046

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized Kenyan nationalist statement, c. 1950s: “The land taken for settlers has left many without a future, while emergency laws call every demand for dignity a crime. A nation cannot be built on passbooks, detention camps, and silence.” What was the most likely purpose of the statement?

- A) To defend settler control and emergency rule
 - B) To criticize colonial repression and demand political rights
 - C) To argue that detention camps created equality
 - D) To oppose all forms of anticolonial organization
- A) To defend settler control and emergency rule
 - B) To criticize colonial repression and demand political rights
 - C) To argue that detention camps created equality
 - D) To oppose all forms of anticolonial organization

APWH-MCQ12-047

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized Kenyan nationalist statement, c. 1950s: “The land taken for settlers has left many without a future, while emergency laws call every demand for dignity a crime. A nation cannot be built on passbooks, detention camps, and silence.” Which phrase best supports the claim that colonial rule used coercive control?

- A) “Demand for dignity”
 - B) “Passbooks, detention camps, and silence”
 - C) “A nation”
 - D) “Land taken”
- A) “Demand for dignity”
 - B) “Passbooks, detention camps, and silence”
 - C) “A nation”
 - D) “Land taken”

APWH-MCQ12-048

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: CDI — Cultural Developments and Interactions

Skill: Contextualization

Prompt:

Originalized Kenyan nationalist statement, c. 1950s: “The land taken for settlers has left many without a future, while emergency laws call every demand for dignity a crime. A nation cannot be built on passbooks, detention camps, and silence.” Which broader context best explains the statement?

- A) African anticolonial movements after World War II challenged settler privilege, emergency rule, and racial hierarchy.
 - B) European colonies in Africa all became independent without conflict before 1945.
 - C) Colonial governments abandoned land control in the nineteenth century.
 - D) Kenyan nationalism was unrelated to rural grievances or state repression.
- A) African anticolonial movements after World War II challenged settler privilege, emergency rule, and racial hierarchy.
 - B) European colonies in Africa all became independent without conflict before 1945.
 - C) Colonial governments abandoned land control in the nineteenth century.
 - D) Kenyan nationalism was unrelated to rural grievances or state repression.

APWH-MCQ12-049

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: TEC — Technology and Innovation

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Nuclear arms control, simplified Cold War pattern

Period | Development

1960s | Nuclear-armed states and non-nuclear states debate proliferation risks

1968 | Treaty framework seeks to limit spread of nuclear weapons

1970s | Arms limitation talks attempt to manage superpower arsenals

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Nuclear technology created diplomatic efforts to manage proliferation and superpower rivalry.
- B) Nuclear arms control ended all Cold War competition.
- C) Non-nuclear states were absent from proliferation debates.
- D) Nuclear weapons had no influence on international diplomacy.
- A) Nuclear technology created diplomatic efforts to manage proliferation and superpower rivalry.
- B) Nuclear arms control ended all Cold War competition.
- C) Non-nuclear states were absent from proliferation debates.
- D) Nuclear weapons had no influence on international diplomacy.

APWH-MCQ12-050

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 8 — Cold War and Decolonization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Table: Nuclear arms control, simplified Cold War pattern

Period | Development

1960s | Nuclear-armed states and non-nuclear states debate proliferation risks

1968 | Treaty framework seeks to limit spread of nuclear weapons

1970s | Arms limitation talks attempt to manage superpower arsenals

Which statement best evaluates the pattern shown?

- A) Cold War diplomacy sometimes sought to regulate technologies that could threaten global survival.
- B) Nuclear diplomacy occurred only after the Cold War ended.
- C) Arms limitation talks eliminated distrust between superpowers.
- D) Treaties made nuclear weapons irrelevant to world politics.
- A) Cold War diplomacy sometimes sought to regulate technologies that could threaten global survival.
- B) Nuclear diplomacy occurred only after the Cold War ended.
- C) Arms limitation talks eliminated distrust between superpowers.
- D) Treaties made nuclear weapons irrelevant to world politics.

APWH-MCQ12-051

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: SIO — Social Interactions and Organization

Skill: Quantitative, Map, or Data Interpretation

Prompt:

Table: Urban population growth, selected megacities, simplified pattern

City | c. 1980 | c. 2020

Lagos | Several million | More than 15 million

Dhaka | Several million | More than 20 million

Jakarta | Several million | More than 30 million in the metropolitan region

Which conclusion is best supported by the table?

- A) Late twentieth- and early twenty-first-century globalization included rapid urban growth in many formerly colonized regions.
- B) Megacity growth occurred only in Europe and North America.

- C) Urban populations declined in all listed cities.
- D) Globalization ended rural-to-urban migration.
- A) Late twentieth- and early twenty-first-century globalization included rapid urban growth in many formerly colonized regions.
- B) Megacity growth occurred only in Europe and North America.
- C) Urban populations declined in all listed cities.
- D) Globalization ended rural-to-urban migration.

APWH-MCQ12-052

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ECN — Economic Systems

Skill: Developments and Processes

Prompt:

Table: Urban population growth, selected megacities, simplified pattern

City | c. 1980 | c. 2020

Lagos | Several million | More than 15 million

Dhaka | Several million | More than 20 million

Jakarta | Several million | More than 30 million in the metropolitan region

The trend shown most directly contributed to which development?

- A) Declining demand for housing, transportation, and employment
- B) The disappearance of informal economies
- C) Growing pressure on infrastructure, labor markets, housing, and urban services
- D) The end of global manufacturing and service networks
- A) Declining demand for housing, transportation, and employment
- B) The disappearance of informal economies
- C) Growing pressure on infrastructure, labor markets, housing, and urban services
- D) The end of global manufacturing and service networks

APWH-MCQ12-053

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Sourcing and Situation

Prompt:

Originalized urban NGO report, c. 2020: “In the floodplain settlement, garment workers and street vendors lose wages when roads disappear under water. Families do not ask for charity alone; they ask for drainage, buses, secure tenure, and a place in city planning.” What was the most likely purpose of the report?

- A) To argue that rapid urbanization requires infrastructure, labor protection, and participatory planning
- B) To deny that flooding affects urban workers
- C) To promote the removal of all urban residents from cities
- D) To claim that informal workers are unrelated to globalization
- A) To argue that rapid urbanization requires infrastructure, labor protection, and participatory planning
- B) To deny that flooding affects urban workers

- C) To promote the removal of all urban residents from cities
- D) To claim that informal workers are unrelated to globalization

APWH-MCQ12-054

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: ENV — Humans and the Environment

Skill: Claims and Evidence in Sources

Prompt:

Originalized urban NGO report, c. 2020: “In the floodplain settlement, garment workers and street vendors lose wages when roads disappear under water. Families do not ask for charity alone; they ask for drainage, buses, secure tenure, and a place in city planning.” Which phrase best supports the claim that environmental risk affected economic life?

- A) “A place in city planning”
- B) “Garment workers and street vendors lose wages when roads disappear under water”
- C) “Secure tenure”
- D) “Families do not ask”
- A) “A place in city planning”
- B) “Garment workers and street vendors lose wages when roads disappear under water”
- C) “Secure tenure”
- D) “Families do not ask”

APWH-MCQ12-055

Section: MCQ

Type: mcq

Unit: Unit 9 — Globalization

Period: c. 1900–present

Theme: GOV — Governance

Skill: Argumentation / Claim-Evidence

Prompt:

Originalized urban NGO report, c. 2020: “In the floodplain settlement, garment workers and street vendors lose wages when roads disappear under water. Families do not ask for charity alone; they ask for drainage, buses, secure tenure, and a place in city planning.” Which statement best evaluates the report’s argument?

- A) It presents urban poverty as a problem solved only by private charity.
- B) It links climate vulnerability, informal labor, infrastructure, and political inclusion in rapidly growing cities.
- C) It argues that city planning should exclude poor residents.
- D) It treats environmental risk as unrelated to governance.
- A) It presents urban poverty as a problem solved only by private charity.
- B) It links climate vulnerability, informal labor, infrastructure, and political inclusion in rapidly growing cities.
- C) It argues that city planning should exclude poor residents.
- D) It treats environmental risk as unrelated to governance.

PART B — ANSWER KEY + EXPLANATIONS

APWH-MCQ12-001 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Cahokia was an urban ceremonial and political center supported by agriculture. — Explanation: The description links mounds, plazas, leaders, storage, defense, gatherings, and maize fields.

APWH-MCQ12-002 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Nearby maize fields” — Explanation: Maize fields directly support the claim that agriculture helped sustain the center.

APWH-MCQ12-003 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: Plazas — Explanation: Plazas indicate spaces for public gathering, ceremony, and political display.

APWH-MCQ12-004 — Correct: D — Correct Answer: That North American societies before 1450 were necessarily small, scattered, and politically simple — Explanation: Cahokia’s mounds, plazas, defenses, leaders, and agricultural base show complex organization.

APWH-MCQ12-005 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: The spread of maize agriculture and regional exchange in parts of North America — Explanation: Maize agriculture and exchange helped support larger ceremonial and political centers.

APWH-MCQ12-006 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To describe commercial partnerships and legal oversight in a major Afro-Eurasian trade hub — Explanation: The record includes merchants, brokers, partnership shares, judges, ports, and traded goods.

APWH-MCQ12-007 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “A judge records the partnership shares” — Explanation: This phrase shows legal institutions recording and regulating commercial arrangements.

APWH-MCQ12-008 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Cairo linked Mediterranean, Red Sea, and Indian Ocean commercial circuits. — Explanation: Aden, Red Sea ships, Indian cloth, Cairo, brokers, and caravanserais show Cairo’s role as a trade connector.

APWH-MCQ12-009 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: Commercial exchange could rely on brokers, courts, ports, and credit arrangements. — Explanation: The record shows brokers, judges, partnership shares, port agents, and imported goods.

APWH-MCQ12-010 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Mamluk Egypt connected overland, Red Sea, and Mediterranean routes into a wider trading system. — Explanation: The map links Cairo, Damascus, Aden, Jeddah, Alexandria, Mediterranean ports, and Indian Ocean goods.

APWH-MCQ12-011 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To coordinate military power, Islamic learning, taxation, and protection of trade routes — Explanation: The letter references cavalry, scholars, law, salt, grain, records, caravan roads, and punishment of raiders.

APWH-MCQ12-012 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Scholars in the capital teach the law” — Explanation: This phrase shows Islamic learning and legal authority supporting the state.

APWH-MCQ12-013 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: The state connected Saharan and Sahelian ecological zones through trade and taxation. — Explanation: Desert salt and village grain show exchange across different ecological zones.

APWH-MCQ12-014 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Kanem-Bornu state power linked military organization, religious authority, and control of regional exchange. — Explanation: Cavalry, scholars, law, recorded goods, and protected caravan roads all support this argument.

APWH-MCQ12-015 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Đại Việt used education, frontier settlement, military organization, and agrarian administration to strengthen state authority. — Explanation: The map shows schools, examination sites, military colonies, rice districts, river routes, and the capital.

APWH-MCQ12-016 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “Provincial schools” — Explanation: Provincial schools directly show the role of Confucian learning in governance.

APWH-MCQ12-017 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: The combination of bureaucratic education and frontier expansion in Southeast Asian state-building — Explanation: Schools, examinations, frontier colonies, and rice districts show education and expansion working together.

APWH-MCQ12-018 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To explain coordinated resistance to religious suppression and forced labor — Explanation: The testimony describes sacred objects burned, labor demands, messengers, cords, villages, and coordinated revolt.

APWH-MCQ12-019 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “Burned our sacred things” — Explanation: This phrase directly shows attacks on Indigenous religious practices.

APWH-MCQ12-020 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Indigenous communities in Spanish borderlands resisted missionary control, labor demands, and cultural suppression. — Explanation: The source links friars, sacred objects, labor, village coordination, and resistance.

APWH-MCQ12-021 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: It shows that Indigenous resistance could use local communication systems to coordinate action across communities. — Explanation: Messengers and knotted cords between villages indicate coordinated communication.

APWH-MCQ12-022 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Coffee moved from regional cultivation into wider imperial and consumer networks. — Explanation: The table traces coffee from Yemen through Ottoman cities to plantation production under European empires.

APWH-MCQ12-023 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Coffeehouses spread as urban social spaces” — Explanation: This evidence directly connects coffee consumption to urban social life.

APWH-MCQ12-024 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Coffee consumption created new social spaces that linked commerce, news, entertainment, and moral debate. — Explanation: The scene includes coffee drinking, storytelling, news sheets, Mocha sacks, merchants, and a concerned religious official.

APWH-MCQ12-025 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To mobilize peasant protest using religious and social reform language — Explanation: The proclamation criticizes officials, taxes, foreign pressure, peasant land loss, and invokes Eastern Learning.

APWH-MCQ12-026 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “All persons carry Heaven within them” — Explanation: This phrase expresses spiritual equality and challenges hierarchical social assumptions.

APWH-MCQ12-027 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Peasant unrest in late nineteenth-century Korea was shaped by corruption, taxation, social tension, and foreign pressure. — Explanation: The proclamation names corrupt officials, foreign goods, lost land, and taxes.

APWH-MCQ12-028 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: It uses religious equality to justify criticism of corrupt government and social injustice. — Explanation: The source links Eastern Learning, equality, corruption, taxation, land loss, and social protest.

APWH-MCQ12-029 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To promote selective modernization under imperial authority — Explanation: The statement supports learning from the world, conscription, schooling, surveys, money taxes, and the throne.

APWH-MCQ12-030 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Schools teach useful knowledge” — Explanation: This phrase directly shows the value placed on practical education.

APWH-MCQ12-031 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: The strengthening of centralized fiscal systems to support modernization — Explanation: Land surveys and money taxes helped centralize revenue collection.

APWH-MCQ12-032 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: It combined state centralization, mass education, military service, and fiscal reform. — Explanation: The statement includes schools, conscription, land surveys, taxes, and imperial authority.

APWH-MCQ12-033 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Pacific island economies and politics could become entangled with imperial commercial and naval rivalry. — Explanation: The map shows copra districts, foreign trading firms, naval stations, treaty ports, and chiefs negotiating under pressure.

APWH-MCQ12-034 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Chiefs negotiated under foreign pressure” — Explanation: This phrase shows local leaders acting within constrained imperial conditions.

APWH-MCQ12-035 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Industrial-era empires sought coaling, repair, and strategic stations to support steam-powered naval reach. — Explanation: Naval stations were valuable for steamship-era military and commercial power projection.

APWH-MCQ12-036 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Imperialism in Oceania could combine commodity exports, naval strategy, and diplomatic pressure on local leaders. — Explanation: Copra, firms, naval stations, treaty ports, and chiefs under pressure all support this argument.

APWH-MCQ12-037 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Social Darwinist ideas were used to give pseudo-scientific justification to imperial hierarchy. — Explanation: Skull measurement, “Science,” “Empire,” Africa, and the caption connect racialized science to imperial ideology.

APWH-MCQ12-038 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “Measures skulls” — Explanation: Skull measurement directly represents racialized pseudo-science.

APWH-MCQ12-039 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Nineteenth-century imperialism was often justified through racial theories and claims of scientific superiority. — Explanation: The cartoon reflects social Darwinist and scientific-racist justifications for empire.

APWH-MCQ12-040 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: It shows how economic and imperial interests could cloak inequality in the language of science. — Explanation: “Science,” the businessman, “Empire,” Africa, and “Nature has chosen the rulers” show ideology serving power.

APWH-MCQ12-041 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: State-directed collectivization could produce coercion, resistance, and severe human consequences. — Explanation: The table shows forced consolidation, resistance, grain procurement, movement restrictions, and famine.

APWH-MCQ12-042 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: “Restrictions on movement” — Explanation: Movement restrictions show direct state coercion of rural populations.

APWH-MCQ12-043 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: It demonstrates how totalitarian economic planning could transform rural society through coercion. — Explanation: Forced farms, procurement targets, restrictions, resistance, and famine demonstrate coercive transformation.

APWH-MCQ12-044 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: World War II introduced weapons whose destructive effects reshaped debates about war and civilians. — Explanation: The table mentions blast, fire, radiation sickness, civilian casualties, and strategic bombing debates.

APWH-MCQ12-045 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Modern total war blurred distinctions between battlefield and civilian space. — Explanation: The photograph shows burned urban infrastructure, a school, missing families, medical workers, and wounded civilians.

APWH-MCQ12-046 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: To criticize colonial repression and demand political rights — Explanation: The statement criticizes settler land control, emergency laws, passbooks, detention camps, and silence.

APWH-MCQ12-047 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Passbooks, detention camps, and silence” — Explanation: This phrase directly shows mechanisms of coercive colonial control.

APWH-MCQ12-048 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: African anticolonial movements after World War II challenged settler privilege, emergency rule, and racial hierarchy. — Explanation: The statement fits postwar anticolonial challenges to land alienation and emergency repression.

APWH-MCQ12-049 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Nuclear technology created diplomatic efforts to manage proliferation and superpower rivalry. — Explanation: The table shows proliferation debates, a treaty framework, and arms limitation talks.

APWH-MCQ12-050 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Cold War diplomacy sometimes sought to regulate technologies that could threaten global survival. — Explanation: Nuclear weapons created risks that treaty frameworks and arms talks attempted to manage.

APWH-MCQ12-051 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: Late twentieth- and early twenty-first-century globalization included rapid urban growth in many formerly colonized regions. — Explanation: Lagos, Dhaka, and Jakarta grew into megacities during this period.

APWH-MCQ12-052 — Correct: C — Correct Answer: Growing pressure on infrastructure, labor markets, housing, and urban services — Explanation: Rapid megacity growth increased demands for transportation, jobs, housing, and public services.

APWH-MCQ12-053 — Correct: A — Correct Answer: To argue that rapid urbanization requires infrastructure, labor protection, and participatory planning — Explanation: The report calls for drainage, buses, secure tenure, and inclusion in city planning.

APWH-MCQ12-054 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: “Garment workers and street vendors lose wages when roads disappear under water” — Explanation: This phrase directly links flooding to economic losses for workers.

APWH-MCQ12-055 — Correct: B — Correct Answer: It links climate vulnerability, informal labor, infrastructure, and political inclusion in rapidly growing cities. — Explanation: The report connects flood risk, workers, roads, drainage, buses, tenure, and city planning.

SECTION 2 — SERIES DO-NOT-REPEAT BANK UPDATE — DO NOT IMPORT

SERIES DO-NOT-REPEAT BANK UPDATE — APWH-MCQ12

· APWH-MCQ12-001–005: Unit 1; c. 1200–1450; Cahokia/Mississippian North America; secondary-source archaeological interpretation; earthen mounds, plazas, palisades, maize fields, storage, defense, ceremonies, regional gatherings; reasoning paths include state formation interpretation, maize evidence, visual/material public-space analysis, misconception challenge, maize agriculture context; source type: archaeological settlement interpretation; misconception targeted: assuming pre-1450 North American societies were small, simple, or dependent on Europeans.

· APWH-MCQ12-006–010: Unit 2; c. 1200–1450; Mamluk Cairo, Aden, Red Sea, Mediterranean, Indian Ocean; original commercial court record plus described trade-route map; brokers, caravanserai, judge, partnership shares, pepper, indigo, Indian cloth, Aden, Jeddah, Damascus, Alexandria; reasoning paths include purpose, legal regulation evidence, Afro-Eurasian commercial context, broker/court/credit systems, map interpretation; source/map type: commercial court record and Mamluk route map; misconception targeted: treating trade as simple barter or Cairo as isolated from Indian Ocean and Mediterranean systems.

· APWH-MCQ12-011–014: Unit 3; c. 1450–1750; Kanem-Bornu/Lake Chad/Sahel-Sahara; original royal letter; mail, cavalry horses, Islamic scholars, law, desert salt, village grain, caravan roads, raiders; reasoning paths include purpose, Islamic learning evidence, ecological-zone trade context, military-religious-commercial state-building argument; source type: royal administrative letter; misconception targeted: treating Sahelian state power as non-bureaucratic or disconnected from Islamic learning and regional exchange.

· APWH-MCQ12-015–017: Unit 3; c. 1450–1750; Lê dynasty Đại Việt/Vietnam; described administrative-frontier map; provincial schools, Confucian examinations, military colonies, southern frontier, rice districts, river routes to capital; reasoning paths include map interpretation, Confucian school evidence, bureaucratic education plus frontier expansion; map type: education-frontier-rice administration map; misconception targeted: assuming Southeast Asian state-building lacked Confucian bureaucratic tools or frontier policy.

· APWH-MCQ12-018–021: Unit 4; c. 1450–1750; Pueblo Revolt/New Mexico/Spanish borderlands; original Pueblo testimony; friars, sacred objects burned, forced labor for churches, messengers, knotted cords, village coordination, ancestors; reasoning paths include purpose, religious suppression evidence, Spanish borderlands context, communication-based resistance argument; source type: Indigenous testimony; misconception targeted: assuming Indigenous resistance lacked coordination or was unrelated to religious and labor coercion.

· APWH-MCQ12-022–024: Unit 4; c. 1450–1750; coffee circulation from Yemen/Mocha to Ottoman cities and Caribbean/Latin American plantations; commodity-spread table plus described Istanbul coffeehouse scene; Mocha export, Ottoman coffeehouses, plantation coffee, storytelling, news sheets, merchants, religious concern; reasoning paths include data/table interpretation, urban social-space evidence, visual/material coffeehouse analysis; table/visual type: commodity diffusion table and coffeehouse scene; misconception targeted: treating transoceanic commodities only as plantation goods while ignoring earlier urban consumer cultures.

· APWH-MCQ12-025–028: Unit 5; c. 1750–1900; Donghak movement/Korea; original peasant-religious proclamation; corrupt officials, foreign goods, peasant land loss, taxes, Eastern Learning, spiritual equality, corrupt rule; reasoning paths include purpose, equality evidence, late nineteenth-century Korean grievance context, religious-social reform argument; source type: protest proclamation; misconception targeted: separating religious movements from social protest and anti-corruption politics.

· APWH-MCQ12-029–032: Unit 5; c. 1750–1900; Meiji Japan; original reform statement; learning from the world, throne, conscription, schools, useful knowledge, land surveys, money taxes, village obligations; reasoning paths include purpose, practical education evidence, centralized fiscal modernization, state centralization plus education/military/fiscal reform argument; source type: reform statement; misconception targeted: treating Meiji modernization as either total Westernization or unrelated to state centralization.

· APWH-MCQ12-033–036: Unit 6; c. 1750–1900; Samoa/Oceania; described imperial rivalry map; copra-producing districts, German trading firms, U.S. and British naval stations, treaty ports, chiefs negotiating under pressure; reasoning paths include map interpretation, local agency evidence, steamship/naval-station context, commodity/naval/diplomatic imperialism argument; map type: Pacific commodity-and-naval rivalry map; misconception targeted: treating Pacific imperialism as strategically insignificant or local chiefs as entirely passive.

· APWH-MCQ12-037–040: Unit 6; c. 1750–1900; Europe/Africa imperial ideology; described political cartoon; lecturer labeled “Science,” skull measurement, businessman labeled “Empire,” map of Africa, “Nature has chosen the rulers”; reasoning paths include visual interpretation, pseudo-scientific evidence, social Darwinist imperial context, economic/imperial interests cloaked as science; visual type: social Darwinist imperial cartoon; misconception targeted: treating imperialism as justified only by economics or ignoring racialized ideology.

· APWH-MCQ12-041–043: Unit 7; c. 1900–present; Soviet collectivization; simplified policy-result table; forced farm consolidation, peasant resistance, livestock slaughter, grain procurement, food shortages, movement restrictions, famine; reasoning paths include data interpretation, state coercion evidence, totalitarian economic planning argument; table type: collectivization and famine-impact table; misconception targeted: treating collectivization as voluntary modernization or ignoring rural coercion.

· APWH-MCQ12-044–045: Unit 7; c. 1900–present; Hiroshima/Nagasaki/World War II nuclear destruction; nuclear effects table plus described post-bombing photograph; blast, fire, radiation sickness, industrial and residential destruction, missing-family signboard, medical worker, burned school and streetcar rails; reasoning paths include data interpretation and visual analysis of total war's civilian impact; table/visual type: nuclear destruction table and postwar photograph; misconception targeted: treating World War II technology as affecting only military targets.

· APWH-MCQ12-046–048: Unit 8; c. 1900–present; Kenya/East Africa decolonization; original nationalist statement; settler land, emergency laws, dignity criminalized, passbooks, detention camps, silence; reasoning paths include purpose, coercive control evidence, post-WWII anticolonial context; source type: nationalist anti-repression statement; misconception targeted: treating African decolonization as peaceful administrative transfer or unrelated to coercive colonial controls.

· APWH-MCQ12-049–050: Unit 8; c. 1900–present; nuclear arms control/Cold War diplomacy; simplified chronology table; proliferation debates, 1968 treaty framework, arms limitation talks, superpower arsenals; reasoning paths include data interpretation and argument about regulating survival-threatening technologies; table type: nuclear arms-control chronology; misconception targeted: assuming Cold War diplomacy was only confrontation or that treaties ended rivalry completely.

· APWH-MCQ12-051–055: Unit 9; c. 1900–present; global megacity growth and urban climate vulnerability; urban population table for Lagos, Dhaka, Jakarta plus NGO report; rapid megacity growth, infrastructure pressure, garment workers, street vendors, floodplain settlement, flooded roads, drainage, buses, secure tenure, city planning; reasoning paths include data interpretation, urbanization process, report purpose, environmental-economic evidence, climate vulnerability/informal labor/governance argument; table/source type: megacity population table and urban NGO report; misconception targeted: treating globalization as only digital or trade-based while ignoring urban infrastructure, informal labor, and climate risk.